Eight Inches on a Level And Snow
Falling Fast.

The worst snow storm of the winter as well as one of the worst in recent years struck this city this morning shortly after 3 o'clock. By noon the snow was eight inches deep and still falling rapidly. Where it drifted the snow was in several instances from 12 to 20 inches deep.

To say the storm was a surprise is expressing it mildly. Even the weather bureau sent no advice out until late yesterday afternoon.

The ground is dry, caused by the brisk winds of the past few days, and as the snow is also dry it will likely remain on the ground for days. The city is surely in the clutches of the Snow King, and the grip is a firm one. The city has suffered much so far in the way of inconveniences, and this condition may prevail for days to come unless a moderation comes.

The worst inconvenience was occasioned by the street railway companies, which found it impossible to run cars on anything like a schedule. Cars were frequently off the track all through the day. During other snows of the season both railway companies operated their cars during the night, thus being able to keep the tracks clear. As there is not a snow sweeper in the possession of either company, the officials have been compelled to grin and bear it.

Supt. Thomas Reed as soon as a heavy fall of snow was assured put a large force of men at work sweeping the tracks with brooms, but the snow fell so fast this work was practically useless. The line car went to Wellsville during the night, and this morning was unable to return to the barn. It was rigged up as a salt car, but slow progress was made to this city in distributing salt on the rails. The dirt scraper, used to unload dirt from the work car, was brought to the Second street switch shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, and there a heavy working team of horses was attached and the space between the rails was cleaned of snow as much as possible.

One car from East Liverpool was three hours in getting to Wellsville this forenoon. This afternoon the track was fairly well cleared and cars running.

The East Liverpool & Rock Springs Railway company, while unable to operate cars on the usual schedule, fared somewhat better than the East Liverpool railway company. Extra cars were placed on the Chester line clearing the snow from the rails, besides having a large force of men keeping the road open. The snow is being packed solid between the tracks by the motors which press the snow down.

During the day several men were kept at work on the Washington street hill keeping the rails clear, and it was an unusual sight to see cars being coupled together and running double headers.

Both telephone companies have been in luck up to noon, as it was reported that not a single wire was down in this district as a result of the snow. Should the expected sleet storm come considerable damage will no doubt result, as the ice would surely cause many wires to break.

The C. & P. road was unable to operate trains on time, except that the early train from Pittsburgh this morning arrived at this city on time. The train due from the same city at 10 o'clock was over an hour late, and the early accommodation train from Belaire was also over an hour late. Extra engines were sent from the Wellsville shops this morning to keep the road open, these engines operating between Wellsville and Rochester and between Wellsville and Toronto.

The New Cumberland branch of the Panhandle was open all day, trains ar-

iving and departing from Chester on their usual time, except that no freight train was run.

Teamsters experienced much trouble as the snow was so deep that the horses could hardly pull the wagon which contained heavy loads.

The "Nancy Hanks," late this morning, was used as a snow scraper in a novel manner. A large log was attached to the car, upon which a number of men stood and the car used as a snow scraper. This car was at Wellsville, but could not be brought to this city.

Many cars of the company jumped the track this morning, but the company could not reach them with tools to replace them on account of the storm.

Announcement was sent out from Pittsburgh this morning that the present snow storm was expected to be followed by a sleet storm. In this event the snow will melt quickly and may cause another flood in the Ohio river.

A COUNTY OFFICIAL SPENT NIGHT IN JAIL

COUNTY INFIRMARY DIRECTOR TARR WAS ARRESTED.

He Is Accused of Drunkenness And of Beating His Wife—Resignation Wanted.

Lisbon, March 5.—(Special)—Infirmary Director W. A. Tarr was arrested last evening and spent the night in the village lockup. Tarr, who was intoxicated, is alleged to have abused his wife and to have been uncontrollable at home. Officer Costello was summoned and placed him under arrest.

The hearing is set for 2 p. m. today. He was released at 9:30. He immediately went home and in a few minutes two of his neighbors sent in telephone calls, one for Officer Costello and the other for Dr. Marquis. Tarr had again been beating his wife, it is said. There is considerable feeling against him and a growing sentiment among the Republican county executive committee for removing him from the ticket or having him resign.

HOSPITAL FUND

INCREASED $616 BY THE RECENT RUMMAGE SALE.

A Rubber Sale Proposed as the Next Scheme for Raising Money.

The Hospital association met yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Mrs. M. A. Colclough acted as president in the absence of that officer. No officers were elected, from the fact that the books were not ready, but a report from the committee on the rummage sale was given. It was found that the sum of $616 had been cleared. This result was very gratifying.

It was decided to hold another rummage sale, the date of which will be decided upon at the next meeting. It is also the intention of the association to hold a rubber sale soon. Accordingly a committee was appointed to ascertain whether the material from such a sale could be advantageously disposed of.

Should the association decide upon the public sale, East Liverpool will have the distinction of having the first one in this immediate community. They are, however, quite common in other towns.

The report of the committee will be given at the next meeting which occurs two weeks from yesterday at largely attended.

Caused Much Discussion, a Majority
Favoring June—The Committee
Will Revise the Rules, And This

While there was a disposition on the part of a few members of the county Republican committee to be obstinate, on the whole the meeting at Lisbon yesterday was harmonious.

A majority of the recently elected central committeemen from East Liverpool are new and some difficulty was experienced in keeping them in line. By noon, however, the Liverpool people and their friends concluded to make no contest, and allow matters to take their regular course.

For the first time in more than 15 years slate was not talked nor was one formed the night before the convention. John S. McNutt was the choice of the majority for county chairman, and instead of devoting their time to the formation of a slate, those who reached Lisbon the night before talked over the plans for the future.

It was the original plan of the East Liverpool people to bring the county headquarters to this city, and when the caucus was convened yesterday morning the committeemen from here were determined that W. L. Smith should stand for election to the position. He positively declined and in order to have some recognition Attorney George E. Davidson's name was proposed for secretary. When it was found that the plan was likely to be opposed the idea was abandoned.

The county secretary and several members of the press canvassed the returns in the morning and when the totals were found for the precincts which were already in, it was decided to wait until a few townships not yet reported had been heard from before giving out the figures.

The mass convention met at 1:30 and in order to expedite matters a committee composed of W. L. Smith, Ed A. King and R. N. Chamberlain was appointed to select delegates to the state Republican convention. The

Columbus, March 5.—The case of the Potters Co-operative Pottery company (the Dresden), of East Liverpool, against the East Liverpool Railway company, in error to the circuit court of Columbiana county, has been dismissed by the supreme court. The plaintiff in error failed to file a printed record, virtually allowing the suit to go by default, the omission being the cause of it being thrown out. The pottery company brought the case to prevent the street railway from constructing a line in front of its plant, and lost in both the common pleas and circuit courts.

If the senate concurs in the action of the house, the Garfield corrupt practice act will be repealed. The house on Tuesday passed the Deval bill repealing the act by a large vote. Mr. Crist voted for the repeal. The bill of Representative Pollock, of Stark, requiring the use of the union label on all state printing was defeated in the house. Most of the strongest supporters of the measure were absent when the measure came up. Senator Thompson, of Franklin, introduced a bill authorizing the employment of a Catholic chaplain at the penitentiary. Another bill by the same author provides for an income tax of one-fifth of 1 per cent on all incomes over $200. The senate made a law of the bill of Representative Duval, of Jefferson, which provides that county commissioners must care for the graves of soldiers and sailors, where they are located in exclusive burial lots.

Secretary of State L. C. Laylin on Tuesday made two appointments to fill vacancies created by the resignation of Democratic members of the boards of deputy election supervisors. J. H. Aten, of East Liverpool, Democratic member of the Columbiana county board, resigned, and Byron and

Its purpose is to mine and sell fire clay and coal and manufacture fireproofing and kindred products. C. K. Robinson is president and Byron Traver secretary.

NO SAFETY SWITCH

The One Placed on the Calcutta Road
Will Be Removed.

Announcement has been made by officials of the street railway company that no safety switch will be used on the Calcutta branch at the intersection of Grant street and Calcutta road.

This safety switch was placed there several weeks ago, and it has not been in operation since it was installed. No sooner had the workmen left the switch than the company was notified that the switch in its present location was objectionable and the company was asked to have it removed.

When asked about this matter Manager Healy said: "We tried to do the best we knew how on that road, and now that we have gone to the expense of placing a safety switch there, a property owner asks us to remove it."

"Will you take it out," was asked. "We certainly will," said Mr. Healy.

FELL ON THE STREET

Mail Carrier John Suter, while pursuing his duties on Second street this morning, was overcome by a spell of heart failure. He fell three times and was taken into a drug store.

Doctor Taylor administered to the stricken man, and he was afterward taken to his home. Doctor Shay was summoned, and after a careful examination gave it as his opinion that Mr. Suter had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. He is slightly better this afternoon.

CHARGES WITHDRAWN

The sensational case brought by Mrs. Anna Barker against a West End married man, was to be tried this afternoon in Justice McCarron's court.

Mrs. Barker's attorney wanted $50 from the defendant to settle the matter, but his proposition was turned down coldly. The accused man secured a lawyer and demanded a trial.

Miss Barker could produce no testimony against the accused man and the charges were withdrawn.

A Great Success.

The missionary tea held yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. R. Warner, under the auspices of the Missionary societies of the Presbyterian church, was declared a great success. There was a large number of ladies present, all of whom voiced the opinion that the teas should be held regularly. This will probably be decided upon in the near future.

Mr. J. K. Brothers and Mrs. Josephine Cashdollar were married last night at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. W. Gorrell. Mr. and Mrs. Brothers will make their home on Trentvale street.

OTHER RIGHT OF WAY SOUGHT

To Extend the Road From Toronto to Wellsville, After Which East Liverpool Will Be Reached—Deal Worked Quietly.

From one of the head promoters of the scheme it was learned at Wellsville this morning that the proposed Wabash railroad extension to East Liverpool is positively assured and also that work on the line is to be hastened in every way possible.

It will be remembered that the Wellsville council some time ago granted a franchise to P. M. Smith for the building of a line of railway on Sewer street, extending from the brick plant at the lower end of the city to Little Yellow creek in the upper section. It was generally supposed at the time the franchise was granted that it was the intention of the parties represented by Smith to build a switch to some of the potteries and other plants not reached by railroad.

However, from the information obtained today by the News Review the right of way was secured for the Wabash railroad, which is to be built as soon as the right of way from Toronto to Wellsville can be bought.

Between Steubenville and Toronto nearly all of the necessary property for the extension has already been secured and no trouble is anticipated in the closing of deals for that needed in extending the new line to Wellsville.

The promoter who is now in Wellsville said today it has been the intention of the Wabash company ever since the up-river extension was first projected to build it to East Liverpool. He stated that the matter had been kept quiet for fear that other railroad companies might make an effort to secure rights of way over the same territory the Wabash is to traverse.

His reason for making the scheme known at the present time is because, as he claims, the Wabash had so nearly secured the necessary rights of way that there is now no cause to fear opposition.

P. M. Smith was questioned regarding the scheme, but would give no facts.

An Italian whose name sounds something like Givani was stabbed in his shanty on Pennsylvania avenue Monday night by another Italian whose name was not learned. The man who did the cutting used a razor and slashed his victim both on the arm and leg. Dr. Hobbs sewed up the wounds.

The assault was made on Givani while he was in bed. The door to the shanty had become swollen and as it was hard to open the other Italian, who came home late, thought Givani had locked it and for this reason attacked him.

Several of the injured man's friends have called at the mayor's office, asking to have the man who used the razor arrested, but it has been learned that he has skipped out and is thought to be in Pittsburgh.

THREE TONS OF ROCK CRASH THROUGH HOUSE

The family of Hardin Woolcott, manager of the Wallover Oil company, near Smiths Ferry, had a narrow escape from being instantly killed yesterday between 12 and 1 o'clock. Mr. Woolcott lives in a small house on the hillside, just above the Presbyterian church. Just as the family was getting up from dinner a large rock, accompanied by much dirt, fell from the hillside of the Woolcott home, broke through the dining room floor and lodged in the cellar.

The family had finished dinner but a few moments before the rock crashed through the side of the house. Portions of the stone crushed many articles on the table.

Excitement reigned supreme in Glasgow soon after the slide occurred, and large crowds surrounded the Woolcott home to view the partially wrecked building. Mr. Woolcott said he estimated the weight of the rock at not less than three tons, and its fall is supposed to be the result of the moderating weather of the past few days. The rock struck the house with considerable force, as it broke from near the top of the hill.

Columbus, March 5.—The case of the Potters' Co-operative Pottery company (the Dresden), of East Liverpool, against the East Liverpool Railway company, in error to the circuit court of Columbiana county, has been dismissed by the supreme court. The plaintiff in error failed to file a printed record, virtually allowing the suit to go by default, the omission being the cause of it being thrown out. The pottery company brought the case to prevent the street railway from constructing a line in front of its plant, and lost in both the common pleas and circuit courts.

If the senate concurs in the action of the house, the Garfield corrupt practice act will be repealed. The house on Tuesday passed the Deval bill repealing the act by a large vote. Mr. Crist voted for the repeal. The bill of Representative Pollock, of Stark, requiring the use of the union label on all state printing was defeated in the house. Most of the strongest supporters of the measure were absent when the measure came up. Senator Thompson, of Franklin, introduced a bill authorizing the employment of a Catholic chaplain at the penitentiary. Another bill by the same author provides for an income tax of one-fifth of 1 per cent on all incomes over $200. The senate made a law of the bill of Representative Duval, of Jefferson, which provides that county commissioners must care for the graves of soldiers and sailors, where they are located in exclusive burial lots.

Secretary of State L. C. Laylin on Tuesday made two appointments to fill vacancies created by the resignation of Democratic members of the boards of deputy election supervisors. J. H. Aten, of East Liverpool, Democratic member of the Columbiana county board, resigned, and Byron and

The One Placed on the Calcutta Road
Will Be Removed.

Announcement has been made by officials of the street railway company that no safety switch will be used on the Calcutta branch at the intersection of Grant street and Calcutta road.

This safety switch was placed there several weeks ago, and it has not been in operation since it was installed. No sooner had the workmen left the switch than the company was notified that the switch in its present location was objectionable and the company was asked to have it removed.

When asked about this matter Manager Healy said: "We tried to do the best we knew how on that road, and now that we have gone to the expense of placing a safety switch there, a property owner asks us to remove it."

"Will you take it out," was asked.

"We certainly will," said Mr. Healy.

Mail Carrier Suter Seized With Sud-

Work.

Mail Carrier John Suter, while pursuing his duties on Second street this morning, was overcome by a spell of heart failure. He fell three times and was taken into a drug store.

Doctor Taylor administered to the stricken man, and he was afterward taken to his home. Doctor Shay was summoned, and after a careful examination gave it as his opinion that Mr. Suter had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. He is slightly better this afternoon.

CHARGES WITHDRAWN

West End Man Accused By Chester
Woman Wouldn't Pay
Money Demanded.

The sensational case brought by Mrs. Anna Barker against a West End married man, was to be tried this afternoon in Justice McCarron's court.

Mrs. Barker's attorney wanted $50 from the defendant to settle the matter, but his proposition was turned down coldly. The accused man secured a lawyer and demanded a trial.

Miss Barker could produce no testimony against the accused man and the charges were withdrawn.

A Great Success.

The missionary tea held yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. R. Warner, under the auspices of the Missionary societies of the Presbyterian church, was declared a great success. There was a large number of ladies present, all of whom voiced the opinion that the teas should be held regularly. This will probably be decided upon in the near future.

Cashdollar-Brothers.

Mr. J. K. Brothers and Mrs. Josephine Cashdollar were married last night at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. W. Gorrell. Mr. and Mrs. Brothers will make their home on Trentvale street.

OTHER RIGHT OF WAY SOUGHT

To Extend the Road From Toronto to Wellsville, After Which East Liv-
erpool Will Be Reached—Deal Worked Quietly.

From one of the head promoters of the scheme it was learned at Wellsville this morning that the proposed Wabash railroad extension to East Liverpool is positively assured and also that work on the line is to be hastened in every way possible.

It will be remembered that the Wellsville council some time ago granted a franchise to P. M. Smith for the building of a line of railway on Sewer street, extending from the brick plant at the lower end of the city to Little Yellow creek in the upper section. It was generally supposed at the time the franchise was granted that it was the intention of the parties represented by Smith to build a switch to some of the potteries and other plants not reached by railroad.

However, from the information obtained today by the News Review the right of way was secured for the Wabash railroad, which is to be built as soon as the right of way from Toronto to Wellsville can be bought.

Between Steubenville and Toronto nearly all of the necessary property for the extension has already been secured and no trouble is anticipated in the closing of deals for that needed in extending the new line to Wellsville.

The promoter who is now in Wellsville said today it has been the intention of the Wabash company ever since the up-river extension was first projected to build it to East Liverpool. He stated that the matter had been kept quiet for fear that other railroad companies might make an effort to secure rights of way over the same territory the Wabash is to traverse.

His reason for making the scheme known at the present time is because, as he claims, the Wabash had so nearly secured the necessary rights of way that there is now no cause to fear opposition.

P. M. Smith was questioned regarding the scheme, but would give no facts.

USED A RAZOR

Treacherous Italian Attacks His Companion and Cut Him
Seriously.

An Italian whose name sounds something like Givani was stabbed in his shanty on Pennsylvania avenue Monday night by another Italian whose name was not learned. The man who did the cutting used a razor and slashed his victim both on the arm and leg. Dr. Hobbs sewed up the wounds.

The assault was made on Givani while he was in bed. The door to the shanty had become swollen and as it was hard to open the other Italian, who came home late, thought Givani had locked it and for this reason attacked him.

Several of the injured man's friends have called at the mayor's office, asking to have the man who used the razor arrested, but it has been learned that he has skipped out and is thought to be in Pittsburgh.

Wedded at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 5.—(Special)—Andrew J. Crawford and Miss Emma L. Flood were married last evening by Rev. Mr. Fowler, of the Christian church. Mr. Crawford is a freight conductor on the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western railroad, and his bride is a young lady whose former home was at Kensington. They will reside in Lisbon.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, March 5.—(Special)—A marriage license has been issued to Eli W. Davis and Ellen Kountz, Homeworth.

BOYS GIVEN WARNING

To Cease a Practice Which Endangers Their Lives And Other People's.

Complaint has been heard in the East End about a crowd of boys who for several days have been playing about the East End station platform of the C. & P. road. These boys have been pulling and pushing the truck used by the Adams Express company about. Fearing that an accident might result Captain Terrance, of the East End fire station, yesterday afternoon advised the boys to stay away from the station.

The boys have been playing about the platform in this manner generally about train time and should this truck be accidentally pushed upon the track a wreck would be the result. It took some hustling to get the company to place a truck in the East End for the accommodation of its agent, but unless it is left alone the company will certainly take it away.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, March 5.—Preparatory services were held Saturday in the Presbyterian church, but because of the illness of Elders Moore and Saint communion services had to be postponed.

Mrs. McCoy, of East Palestine, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. P. Gaston.

Miss Carrie Finney has been secured to teach the spring term of school, Prof. Moore having resigned to take a trip to Kansas.

Harry Warrick, Canfield student, continues too ill to be out or return to school.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moon are now pleasantly situated in their new home on High street.

W. C. Warrick had charge of the funeral of Harvey Moore, of the Bell district, Saturday. Interment at Calcutta. His death came suddenly of pneumonia. He was highly respected, a member of Long's Run Presbyterian church and leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter Alva. The eldest son, a teacher, was ill of pneumonia also and unable to attend his father's funeral.

E. D. Moore, a veteran of the civil war, is quite ill.

Dr. Schall received a call and a fine salary to return to his old home near Dell Roy, to go as a physician to the miners of that district. He soon disposed of his property to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feegle and with his family has moved to Dell Roy. The doctor was very successful in his practice here and made very many friends.

New York, March 5.—The evidence of John W. Truesdell, a handwriting expert from Syracuse, was continued yesterday in the trial of Albert T. Patrick.

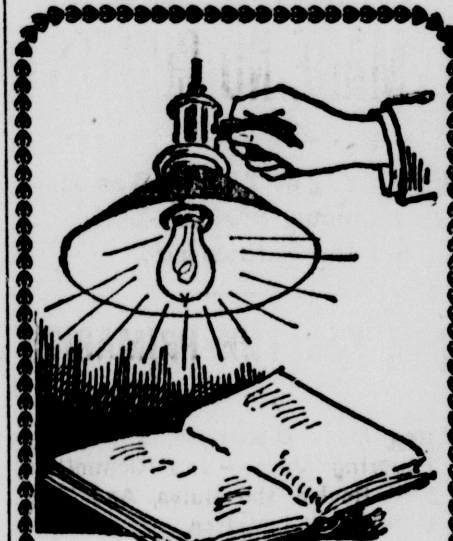

He testified Monday that the disputed signatures were forgeries of the name of W. M. Rice. Yesterday Robert M. Moore, of Patrick's counsel, showed the witness some conceded signatures, which he said resembled more closely the disputed signatures than those put in evidence by the prosecution, and the witness said it was true that in some of them the "shaded down strokes" and other mannerisms of Mr. Rice's writing were lacking.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, March 5.—Preparatory services were held Saturday in the Presbyterian church, but because of the illness of Elders Moore and Saint communion services had to be postponed.

Mrs. McCoy, of East Palestine, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. P. Gaston.

Miss Carrie Finney has been secured to teach the spring term of school, Prof. Moore having resigned to take a trip to Kansas.

Harry Warrick, Canfield student, continues too ill to be out or return to school.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moon are now pleasantly situated in their new home on High street.

W. C. Warrick had charge of the funeral of Harvey Moore, of the Bell district, Saturday. Interment at Calcutta. His death came suddenly of pneumonia. He was highly respected, a member of Long's Run Presbyterian church and leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter Alva. The eldest son, a teacher, was ill of pneumonia also and unable to attend his father's funeral.

E. D. Moore, a veteran of the civil war, is quite ill.

Dr. Schall received a call and a fine salary to return to his old home near Dell Roy, to go as a physician to the miners of that district. He soon disposed of his property to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feegele and with his family has moved to Dell Roy. The doctor was very successful in his practice here and made very many friends.

To Repeal Garfield Law.

Columbus, O., March 5.—The House of Representatives yesterday passed the Deval bill to repeal the corrupt practice act in buying votes in elections, known as the Garfield law, by a vote of 59 to 24. There was no effort at party division. It was given as the belief of the friends of the measure that the bill will pass the senate.

DECLARED THEM FORGERIES.

Expert Testified as to Disputed Signatures at Patrick Trial.

New York, March 5.—The evidence of John W. Truesdell, a handwriting expert from Syracuse, was continued yesterday in the trial of Albert T. Patrick.

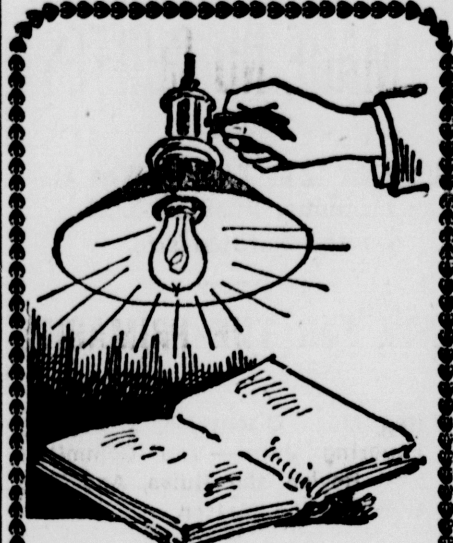

He testified Monday that the disputed signatures were forgeries of the name of W. M. Rice. Yesterday Robert M. Moore, of Patrick's counsel, showed the witness some conceded signatures, which he said resembled more closely the disputed signatures than those put in evidence by the prosecution, and the witness said it was true that in some of them the "shaded down strokes" and other mannerisms of Mr. Rice's writing were lacking.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 5.—Milwaukee was host to Prince Henry of Prussia for six hours last evening, and gave him a reception that was highly enthusiastic and entertaining. That was unique. His special train came at 4 o'clock and at 10 o'clock was away again on the long run to Niagara and New England. The intervening time was all given over to the reception and entertainment of the royal visitor. It began with a drive through the business and residential districts in review before a crowd that numbered 200,000. Then there was a public reception, at which Gov. La Follette and Mayor Rose voiced the official welcomes, and the United Singing Societies raised their voices in mighty chorus. There was also a splendid illumination and a thrilling night run of the Milwaukee fire department. Later there was a banquet, at which the Prince met the leading citizens of the city and state.

The thousands of German residents in Milwaukee joined heartily in the welcome of the young Prince to whose house they once owed allegiance, and veterans of the German wars gathered from throughout the state to assist in the reception.

Prince's Reception.

Berlin, March 5.—Emperor William, instead of being displeased with the telegram of Miss Alice Roosevelt concerning the launching of the Meteor, as some of the English newspapers aver, because of its familiar tone, was on the contrary, very much pleased with it.

A member of the cabinet relates that after an audience with Emperor William, February 26, official business having been finished, he was about to leave when the Kaiser remarked:

"I must show you the charming telegram I have just received from Miss Alice Roosevelt."

To other members of his entourage the Emperor has also expressed his pleasure over this telegram and has praised its natural and unstrained form.

The correspondent here of The Associated Press has been officially informed of Emperor William's satisfaction at the reception accorded to Prince Henry. The informant of the correspondent had seen all Emperor William's marginal notes on the reports of Prince Henry's trip. He said: "His Majesty is in the highest degree pleased with Prince Henry's reception from his arrival in America, and especially with that accorded by President Roosevelt and his family. The Emperor has also expressed himself as delighted with the enthusiasm of the welcome to his brother."

Today's Glorification Of the Brute

..... By Rev. Dr. CHARLES H. PARKHURST

IT IS ONE OF THE SUPREME PURPOSES OF HISTORY—OF LAW, GOSPEL AND HOLY SPIRIT—TO ENABLE MEN TO GET OVER BEING BRUTES. YET THE MOST INTERESTING AND THE MOST VOLUMINOUSLY REPORTED AND GRAPHICALLY ILLUSTRATED STRUGGLES ARE THE STRUGGLES THAT ARE WAGED BETWEEN MAN AND MAN IN THEIR CAPACITY AS BRUTES SIMPLE AND UNMITIGATED.

In our colleges and universities there is no event in the entire academic year that so grips upon the interest of the entire institution, from president down to professor of dust and ashes, as THE STRUGGLE ON THE CAMPUS THAT ILLUSTRATES THE STUDENTS' TERRIFIC BRUTALITY. In comparison with it intellectual feats and philosophic, classic or scientific competition are not even a barren circumstance.

Now, we need not despise the body nor maltreat it. So long as we are part brute we want that part to be as good of its kind as it can be, but in this year of grace 1902 it ought to be pretty clear to our minds that muscle is not the point at which, properly speaking, humanity culminates.

The heroism of battle is not to be mentioned the same day with the heroism of suffering.

THE SUPREME HERO OF HISTORY WAS JESUS CHRIST, WHO WAS GREATEST NOT IN WHAT HE COULD ACHIEVE, BUT IN WHAT HE COULD BEAR, AND WHO CONQUERS THE WORLD NOT BY WHAT HE IS ABLE TO DO, BUT BY WHAT HE IS ABLE TO SUFFER.

The tendency in all ages is to imagine that chivalry to a good degree consists in taking the risk of being ourselves knocked down while in the act of trying to knock somebody else down. But that is chivalry that yokes a man with a hyena, not with Abraham or the Son of God.

Heroism may make a man fight magnificently and fearlessly, but the fighting is not an ingredient of the heroism. IN NINE CASES OUT OF TEN IT TAKES MORE HEROISM NOT TO FIGHT THAN IT DOES TO FIGHT.

conductors of freight trains and on interurban cars was passed in the house yesterday. The house also passed the Cannon bill, to prohibit the delivery or deposit of samples of proprietary remedies, either for external or internal use, on the premises of any person, or the giving of such samples to any child under the age of 14 years, under penalty.

Another general measure passed provides that persons riding on horseback, on a bicycle, tandem bicycle, automobile or other vehicles of any description, shall keep to the right and give two-thirds of the road.

Albany, N. Y., March 5.—The memory of the late President William McKinley was honored by the legislature of the state last evening. The exercises were held in the legislative chambers and were presided over by Governor Odell. Seated on the platform were U. S. Senator Platt and the members of the legislative committee which arranged for the exercises. The chamber was appropriately decorated.

The opening prayer was delivered by the Rt. Rev. William Croswell Doane, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Albany. The choir of All Saints P. E. Cathedral rendered the music. Governor Odell introduced the speaker of the evening, the Hon. Charles Emory Smith, formerly postmaster general, who spoke.

The closing benediction was pronounced by the Rt. Rev. T. M. A. Burke, Roman Catholic Bishop of Albany.

Chicago, March 5.—The woes of Ireland and the wrongs of the Boers were kindred subjects at a meeting of the Irish Nationalists held in this city last night. The meeting was primarily held to pay tribute to the memory of Robert Emmett, but the South African war occupied almost an equal space with the Irish patriot in the addresses that were made. The chief address of the evening was made by former Congressman John J. Lentz, of Ohio.

Judge Edward F. Dunne, of Chicago, presided and made a stirring address in praise of Robert Emmett. Speeches were also made by other local speakers.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Beaver Falls is to have a new opera house.

The barn and contents of James Boyd, of Yorkville, was destroyed by fire, presumably started by chicken thieves.

Jacob Rider has retired from the official board of the M. E. church, Martin's Ferry, after a continuous service of 60 years.

Charles A. Anderson, of Wellsburg, has filed a claim for $20,000 with the state department for the death of his sister, killed by Boxers in China.

James Welsch at New Brighton caught a burglar trying to get into his home. The thief was so badly frightened he jumped over an eight-foot fence.

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed in the United States court by John L. Jones, of Steubenville, a merchant. The liabilities are scheduled at $2,079.40 and the assets amount to $232.

A 99-year lease has expired in Pennsylvania on property now valued at $25,000,000. Mrs. F. H. Barker and Miss Rena Horner, of Bridgeport, and John Horner, of Bellaire, claim to be heirs.

A Panhandle section hand named Thompson, residing at Collier's station, attempted to jump on a freight train at Steubenville and slipped and fell. His left leg was crushed and had to be amputated.

George James and John Price, while rowing near Empire in a skiff containing a quantity of baled hay, were thrown into the river by the sudden overturning of the boat and rescued with extreme difficulty. They were nearly frozen to death.

A Man's Success.

Ever think what "success" in life means to a man? That he work like a dog as long as he lives and send his wife abroad and his children away to school. Then when he dies he must leave a competence for his "loved ones" in order that they may continue to live without work. Ever hear of a man's loved ones being criticised for failure to do their duty toward him? But from the time the boy is eight years old to the time the man is tottering with old age he never picks up a book, newspaper or magazine without seeing something with reference to his duty. But did you ever hear of any one owing a duty to man or boy?—Atchison Globe.

And we also know that the quickest eradicator of such cough has been Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and which has been our staunch standby for several years. This is no paid "puff," but merely a just recognition for an invariable remedy for for coughs, colds, and all lung affections, and like the editor, it has scores of other staunch friends in this town. Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. To-day physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. MEMBER ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY AFFLICTED WITH CATARRH OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS. CURED BY PERUNA.

HON. JOHN J. FURLONG, Member of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, writes of Peruna as follows:

1353 Osgood St., Chicago, Ill.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.
Gentlemen—"I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles."

"It was of great benefit to me as it cured me of catarrh of the throat and lungs permanently and in a very short time. I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others."—JOHN J. FURLONG.

Cures Made by Peruna are Permanent Cures.

A patient cured by Peruna is no more liable to catarrh than if he had never had it.

Cured of Catarrh of the Entire System.

Mr. William Flood, care Fifth Avenue Hotel, Louisville, Ky., says: "Your Peruna has completely cured me of that distressing disease, catarrh, which affected my head, nose, bronchial tubes, and, in fact, my whole system."

"For nine years I bought everything that was advertised as a sure cure for my complaint, but it so happened that I did not buy Peruna until nine months ago."

"After using your splendid remedy according to your directions I am today a well man. I find Peruna to be the greatest family medicine ever discovered. I shall always keep a bottle of it on hand."

"I can candidly state that had it not been for Peruna I would have given up my position, being too weak to do my work. For eighteen years life was a burden."—Mr. William Flood.

Congressman J. A. Barham, of Santa Rosa, California, writes:

"At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peruna, and can cheerfully recommend it as an excellent remedy for all catarrhal troubles. It is indeed a wonderful medicine."—J. A. Barham.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

A member of the cabinet relates that after an audience with Emperor William, February 26, official business having been finished, he was about to leave when the Kaiser remarked:

To other members of his entourage the Emperor has also expressed his pleasure over this telegram and has praised its natural and unconstrained form.

The correspondent here of The Associated Press has been officially informed of Emperor William's satisfaction at the reception accorded to Prince Henry. The informant of the correspondent had seen all Emperor William's marginal notes on the reports of Prince Henry's trip. He said: "His Majesty is in the highest degree pleased with Prince Henry's reception from his arrival in America, and especially with that accorded by President Roosevelt and his family. The Emperor has also expressed himself as delighted with the enthusiasm of the welcome to his brother."

IT IS ONE OF THE SUPREME PURPOSES OF HISTORY—OF LAW, GOSPEL AND HOLY SPIRIT—TO ENABLE MEN TO GET OVER BEING BRUTES. YET THE MOST INTERESTING AND THE MOST VOLUMINOUSLY REPORTED AND GRAPHICALLY ILLUSTRATED STRUGGLES ARE THE STRUGGLES THAT ARE WAGED BETWEEN MAN AND MAN IN THEIR CAPACITY AS BRUTES SIMPLE AND UNMIGATED.

In our colleges and universities there is no event in the entire academic year that so grips upon the interest of the entire institution, from president down to professor of dust and ashes, as THE STRUGGLE ON THE CAMPUS THAT ILLUSTRATES THE STUDENTS' TERRIFIC BRUTALITY. In comparison with it intellectual feats and philosophic, classic or scientific competition are not even a barren circumstance.

Now, we need not despise the body nor maltreat it. So long as we are part brute we want that part to be as good of its kind as it can be, but in this year of grace 1902 it ought to be pretty clear to our minds that muscle is not the point at which, properly speaking, humanity culminates.

The heroism of battle is not to be mentioned the same day with the heroism of suffering.

THE SUPREME HERO OF HISTORY WAS JESUS CHRIST, WHO WAS GREATEST NOT IN WHAT HE COULD ACHIEVE, BUT IN WHAT HE COULD BEAR, AND WHO CONQUERS THE WORLD NOT BY WHAT HE IS ABLE TO DO, BUT BY WHAT HE IS ABLE TO SUFFER.

The tendency in all ages is to imagine that chivalry to a good degree consists in taking the risk of being ourselves knocked down while in the act of trying to knock somebody else down. But that is chivalry that yokes a man with a hyena, not with Abraham or the Son of God.

Heroism may make a man fight magnificently and fearlessly, but the fighting is not an ingredient of the heroism. IN NINE CASES OUT OF TEN IT TAKES MORE HEROISM NOT TO FIGHT THAN IT DOES TO FIGHT.

conductors of freight trains and on suburban cars was passed in the house yesterday. The house also passed the Cannon bill, to prohibit the delivery or deposit of samples of proprietary remedies, either for external or internal use, on the premises of any person, or the giving of such samples to any child under the age of 14 years, under penalty.

Another general measure passed provides that persons riding on horseback, on a bicycle, tandem bicycle, automobile or other vehicle, upon meeting carriages or other vehicles of any description, shall keep to the right and give two-thirds of the road.

Flood Stationary at Cincinnati. Cincinnati, O., March 5.—At 8 o'clock last night the river was stationary at 50.7, having risen two and one-half inches since 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Although a heavy snow fell here throughout the day, United States Forecaster Bassler last night stated that this would not affect the river, and he predicted clear weather to-day. No serious damage has been reported thus far.

New York Legislature Held Exercises
Smith Chief Orator—Bishops
Prayed.

Albany, N. Y., March 5.—The memory of the late President William McKinley was honored by the legislature of the state last evening. The exercises were held in the legislative chambers and were presided over by Governor Odell. Seated on the platform were U. S. Senator Platt and the members of the legislative committee which arranged for the exercises. The chamber was appropriately decorated. The opening prayer was delivered by the Rt. Rev. William Croswell Doane, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Albany. The choir of All Saints P. E. Cathedral rendered the music. Governor Odell introduced the speaker of the evening, the Hon. Charles Emory Smith, formerly postmaster general, who spoke.

The closing benediction was pronounced by the Rt. Rev. T. M. A. Burke, Roman Catholic Bishop of Albany.

LENTZ CHIEF ORATOR.

Memory of Emmett and South Africa
Subjects of a Meeting.

Chicago, March 5.—The woes of Ireland and the wrongs of the Boers were kindred subjects at a meeting of the Irish Nationalists held in this city last night. The meeting was primarily held to pay tribute to the memory of Robert Emmett, but the South African war occupied almost an equal space with the Irish patriot in the addresses that were made. The chief address of the evening was made by former Congressman John J. Lentz, of Ohio.

Judge Edward F. Dunne, of Chicago, presided and made a stirring address in praise of Robert Emmett. Speeches were also made by other local speakers.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Beaver Falls is to have a new opera house.

The barn and contents of James Boyd, of Yorkville, was destroyed by fire, presumably started by chicken thieves.

Jacob Rider has retired from the official board of the M. E. church, Martin's Ferry, after a continuous service of 60 years.

Charles A. Anderson, of Wellsburg, has filed a claim for $20,000 with the state department for the death of his sister, killed by Boxers in China.

James Welsch at New Brighton caught a burglar trying to get into his home. The thief was so badly frightened he jumped over an eight-foot fence.

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed in the United States court by John L. Jones, of Steubenville, a merchant. The liabilities are scheduled at $2,079.40 and the assets amount to $232.

A 99-year lease has expired in Pennsylvania on property now valued at $25,000,000. Mrs. F. H. Barker and Miss Rena Horner, of Bridgeport, and John Horner, of Bellaire, claim to be heirs.

A Panhandle section hand named Thompson, residing at Collier's station, attempted to jump on a freight train at Steubenville and slipped and fell. His left leg was crushed and had to be amputated.

George James and John Price, while rowing near Empire in a skiff containing a quantity of baled hay, were thrown into the river by the sudden overturning of the boat and rescued with extreme difficulty. They were nearly frozen to death.

A Man's Success.

Ever think what "success" in life means to a man? That he work like a dog as long as he lives and send his wife abroad and his children away to school. Then when he dies he must leave a competence for his "loved ones." In order that they may continue to live without work. Ever hear of a man's loved ones being criticised for failure to do their duty toward him? But from the time the boy is eight years old to the time the man is tottering with old age he never picks up a book, newspaper or magazine without seeing something with reference to his duty. But did you ever hear of any one owing a duty to man or boy?—Atchison Globe.

The Quickest Cough Eradicator.
(From the Shortsville, N. Y., Enterprise.)

This is the month that one takes cold so easily and quickly—secures that hacking cough, which is so persistently disagreeable as we know by personal experience. And we also know that the quickest eradicator of such cough has been Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and which has been our staunch standby for several years. This is no paid "puff," but merely a just recognition for an invariable remedy for for coughs, colds, and all lung affections, and like the editor, it has scores of other staunch friends in this town. This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. MEMBER ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY AFFLICTED WITH CATARRH OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS. CURED BY PERUNA.

HON. JOHN J. FURLONG, Member of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, writes of Peruna as follows:

1338 Osgood St., Chicago, Ill.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.
Gentlemen—“I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles.”

“It was of great benefit to me as it cured me of catarrh of the throat and lungs permanently and in a very short time. I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others.”—JOHN J. FURLONG.

Cures Made by Peruna are Permanent Cures.

A patient cured by Peruna is no more liable to catarrh than if he had never had it.

Cured of Catarrh of the Entire System.

Mr. William Flood, care Fifth Avenue Hotel, Louisville, Ky., says: “Your Peruna has completely cured me of that distressing disease, catarrh, which affected my head, nose, bronchial tubes, and, in fact, my whole system.”

“After using your splendid remedy according to your directions I am today a well man. I find Peruna to be the greatest family medicine ever discovered. I shall always keep a bottle of it on hand.”

“I can candidly state that had it not been for Peruna I would have given up my position, being too weak to do my work. For eighteen years life was a burden.”—Mr. William Flood.

Congressman J. A. Barham, of Santa Rosa, California, writes:

“At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peruna, and can cheerfully recommend it as an excellent remedy for all catarrhal troubles. It is indeed a wonderful medicine.”—J. A. Barham.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The proposition to have the county
primaries in June, when snow and
flood cannot interfere with campaigning and voting, has something to commend it. On the other hand, the idea
of prolonging a campaign all through
the winter and into the summer, is distasteful. Then again, if there are to be spring primaries for municipal
candidates, why not settle the whole business then? A little political excitement is all right in its place, but
there appears no valid reason for pro-
longing the ante-primary contests
through half the year.

Representative Barhart, of Richland
county, has introduced in the state legislature a bill providing a heavy
penalty for bank officials who receive deposits knowing the bank to be insolvent. Most forms of fraud and swindling are now punishable by state
laws. If this one has been overlooked,
by all means let the legislators give
it their attention.

The Republican county executive
committee cannot pursue a wiser
course than to demand and insist
upon the resignation of County Infirmary Director Tarr from the ticket
and from office. If they do not the voters will see to it that such a man
no longer disgraces a responsible office in Columbiana county.

It seems that there is a Cuban-
American League which is circulating
petitions for the annexation of Cuba
under the presidency of a Cuban-
American named William O. McDowell. Until the petition comes from Cubans themselves congress will do
well to pay no attention to it.

Ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas, has

duster and cowhide boots and don
knee breeches for the sake of meeting King Edward. No international complications are likely to result.

General Funston says there is no
more war in the Philippines than in spect for the law is shown.

The state board of health of Pennsylvania is endeavoring to secure legislation that will compel railroad companies to equip their cars with cuspidors.
It is a commendable plan, and is in the interest of the public health.

Cuspidors are not attractive articles
of furniture, but they are useful so long as human hogs continue to find their way into first-class cars.

AT THE THEATER

The wonderfully successful melodrama, "The Span of Life," which has been for eight years the greatest
theatrical success of four continents,
will be presented this season by the
strongest company of actors yet engaged in its production, including the daring and skillful acrobats, the Donazetas, whose athletic feats are marvelous even to their would-be rivals.
It will be seen in its entirety at the opera house next Saturday evening
and this will probably be the last chance offered for seeing it, as the company are engaged for an Australian tour next season.

"The Wise Guy" engagement at the Grand Thursday night will be a clever vaudeville farce. It is heralded as an innovation in farce comedy and
every line of this season's version
is supposed to impart a laugh. "A Wise Guy" differs from most of the present day so-called farce comedies.
The management, it is said, submits
a cast of characters that can hardly
be improved upon and each is credited with individual hits in characters
of similar nature with "The Wise
Guy" last season.

Miss Octavia Barbe, one of the cleverest mimics on the stage and the acknowledged superior of Vesty Til-
lie, is the leading lady with the Or-pheon Extravaganza company, of Chicago, which will be seen at the Grand tonight. Miss Barbe is happily at home in the Weber-Field style of comedy, having had a year's schooling in
the best travesty companies of America and England and having that rare talent of mimicry so seldom found in a woman.

"At Cripple Creek." Hal Reid's latest drama, is full of the vicissitudes
of life and perils in a western mining
camp in the early eighties. The magnificent scenery of the Rockies has
been reproduced with startling realism
and many novel effects enhance these striking pictures of camp life. A charming love story replete with acts
of chivalry moves with absorbing
and thrilling interest through this wild
life "At Cripple Creek."

"At the Old Cross Roads," which comes to the Grand on Mar. 17, is one
of the most magnificent productions
on the road. Special care has been taken in the selection of the cast, and
it will be the same as the original.
The ushers only secured the attraction
after much difficulty and upon a big guarantee. The advance sale is already very large.

"The Two Vagrants" was presented
to a large house at the Grand last evening. The play was put on in an able manner and was one which appealed especially to the women.

Edward Weaver, a gilder at the Sevres China company, left this morning for New Cumberland, where he has taken a similar position at the Chelsea.

Ship Subsidy Bill Again Debated.
Washington, March 4.—The ship
subsidy bill was further discussed in the senate yesterday by Mr. Frye. His remarks were directed principally to the Republican senators, and he gave further expression to his views that
the subsidy bill was a logical response
obviated to the demands and principals
of the Republican party, and that in
its preparation he had obviated the objections entertained by Senators
friendly to the measure. No other senators desiring to speak yesterday,
the bill was laid aside and a number
of other bills were passed.

POTTERY NEWS

There have been received in this
city notices reading as follows:

"A special meeting of the stock-
holders of the Union Potteries company will be held at the registered
office of the company, 15 Exchange
place, Jersey City, N. J., March 11, at 10 o'clock. At this meeting a resolution will be presented to the stockholders ratifying the sale or other disposition of the Chelsea and Union pot-
teries."

A portion of the resolution reads as follows:

"And be it resolved further that the board of directors of the company be
and are hereby authorized and empowered to make such sale and disposition of the property and assets of
the company and to enter into, sign,
seal, execute and deliver such agreements, assignments, conveyances and
other instruments or assurances as may be necessary or proper to consum-mate and carry into effect such sale and disposition."

Jiggermen's local No. 12 met last evening with the largest turnout for years. Seven applications were received, five for reinstatement and two
for initiation. It is expected before
the convention meets every jiggerman
in the city will be a member. A resolution was acted upon and will be put in shape for the delegates. Also a copy will be sent to the different locals. One transfer card was received from East Palestine. The following
delegates were elected to the convention: George Wilson, Frank Gratten,
George White, Harry Jenkins, Walter
McKeone. The alternates are: William Anderson, Mike Lynch, Bert Allison, John Reark, Charles Owen. The
delegates elected are all old timers,
all having been delegates to previous
conventions and will give a good account of themselves.

Local No. 10, turners and handlers
at a meeting Monday evening elected
delegates to the Trenton convention
as follows: Turners, Samuel Burgess,
Smith-Phillips company; Gustav
Wetzell, Taylor, Smith & Taylor;
handlers, Mr. Martin, Smith-Phillips
company. Alternates, William Mc-
Keever, Dresden; Joseph McKinney,
Laughlin No. 2; Frank Huff, Laughlin
No. 1. It is said the resolutions that will be presented to the convention
by these delegates will not be made public until the convention is called to order. However, it is announced that some important concessions will
be asked by this branch of the trade
from the convention.

Quite a sensational move was made
by those who have been working for several weeks attempting to organize
the handle makers and finishers. It has been decided to disband the organization until after the Trenton convention, or until such time as those
at the head of the movement are able
to secure a hall in which a meeting
can be held on any night except Saturday. There has not been as large attendance at these past meetings as has been desired.

In order that all business may be
finished and there will be much of it,
officials of kilnmen's local No. 9 have issued a call for the meeting to begin
at 7 o'clock instead of the usual hour.
This will be the session of sessions,
as 10 delegates to the Trenton convention will be elected and 10 alternates. Already 28 members have been nominated and the nominations will again be opened Friday evening. Much other important business will be considered.

Saggermakers' local No. 16, at a meeting Monday evening, received one proposition for membership. The following were elected delegates to the Trenton convention: William Price,
Diamond; William Conkle, Thomp-
son's; Fred Booth, Dresden. The alternates are: William Hines, Taylor,
Smith & Taylor; Charles Hays, Smith-
Phillips Co. The resolutions from
this local have not been prepared,
this matter to be taken up for discussion next Monday evening.

It was stated in pottery circles this afternoon that a meeting of several pottery manufacturers would be held in the east within a few days for the purpose of considering plans with reference to bringing their business into closer relationship. Who these manufacturers were could not be learned,
but it is announced that details regarding this conference will be made known in this city early next week.

All arrangements have been completed for the association foot ball
game which is to be played at Columbian park Saturday afternoon between clubs representing the Buckeye
and Laughlin No. 2 decorating departments. Interest in the game is increasing and a large attendance is anticipated.

teries company, of this city and Pittsburg, was in the city yesterday, inspecting the improvements being made to the Union in the clay shops.
He returned to his home last evening.

A. L. Seekerson, A. L. McFarland
and John Tarr have been elected delegates to the Trenton convention from Gilders' local No. 19, with William
Heath, Joseph Bloor and Frank Shing-
ler as alternates.

Thompson's, left Monday for Hamilton, Ont., where he will visit his family for several days. He expects to bring his family with him upon his return to this city.

Aaron Coleman, president of No. 9,
a biscuit kilnman at the Buckeye, is unable to work on account of suffering
with a large boil on his neck. It is causing him much pain.

Lyman Earl, a glost kilnman at the Laughlin No. 2, has been off duty
for several days on account of the serious illness of his daughter, at her home on Seventh street.

The Imperial China company last evening shipped an order to Wheeling
on the Kanawha, consisting of 52 packages, the majority of which were casks.

George Cannon, a presser at Mc-
Nicol's, is helping out at the East
Liverpool for a few days. He will return to his former position shortly.

The Chelsea, at New Cumberland,
will resume operations in full in a few days. The plant suffered but slightly from the high water.

George Calhoun, mold runner for Bert Allison, a cup jiggerman at the Union, is confined to his home on account of illness.

James Green, bench boss at the Diamond, is working for several days at the "old end" while the Diamond is shut down.

The mold makers' local will meet
tomorrow evening for the purpose of electing delegates to the Trenton convention.

Sol Leonard, formerly a kilnman at
the East Liverpool plant, has joined
the glost crew at Brunt's.

After a shut down of two days
work was resumed in full at the Union
yesterday.

of her health.

Earle will leave this evening for Florida, where they will remain several months.

of the serious illness of the wife of
Rev. Raymond Huston, of Cross Creek, Pa. The lady formerly resided here.

her nieces, Misses Edith and Bessie Woolmaker, left this morning for Pensacola, Fla., to visit Mrs. Marshall's daughter for several weeks.

The proposition to have the county
primaries in June, when snow and
flood cannot interfere with campaigning and voting, has something to commend it. On the other hand, the idea
of prolonging a campaign all through
the winter and into the summer, is
candidates, why not settle the whole
citement is all right in its place, but
there appears no valid reason for pro-
longing the ante-primary contests
through half the year.

Representative Earhart, of Richland
county, has introduced in the state
penalty for bank officials who receive
deposits knowing the bank to be in-
solvent. Most forms of fraud and
swindling are now punishable by state
laws. If this one has been overlooked,
it their attention.

The Republican county executive
committee cannot pursue a wiser
course than to demand and insist
upon the resignation of County Infirmary Director Tarr from the ticket
and from office. If they do not the
voters will see to it that such a man
no longer disgraces a responsible office in Columbiana county.

It seems that there is a Cuban-
American League which is circulating
petitions for the annexation of Cuba
American named William O. McDow-
ell. Until the petition comes from

Ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas, has
flatly declined to take off his linen
duster and cowhide boots and don
ing King Edward. No international
complications are likely to result.

more war in the Philippines than in Kentucky. It is of the same sort in both regions, and neither will prosper
as it should until more wholesome respect for the law is shown.

The supreme court has struck a blow
at stock exchange gambling by affirming the validity of a decree of the supreme court of Illinois imposing a fine
on those dealing in futures.

The state board of health of Pennsylvania is endeavoring to secure legislation that will compel railroad companies to equip their cars with cuspi-dors. It is a commendable plan, and is in the interest of the public health.

Cuspidors are not attractive articles
of furniture, but they are useful so
long as human hogs continue to find
their way into first-class cars.

Chicago was disappointed in the prince's visit, after all. He refused to look at Chicago's chief object of pride, the stock yards.

It is estimated that King Edward's
coronation will cost $20,000,000. Several good American dollars will help
to swell the total.

The Wabash Railroad company cannot hurry its extension toward this city too fast to suit East Liverpool
people.

By this time Prince Henry probably knows what the strenuous life in America means.

You don't hear any man who has to
wade through it singing about the beautiful snow.

The whole world would apparently
be glad to claim kinship with Uncle
Sam.

These are certainly days when railroad employees earn their salaries.

The kaiser probably wishes that he had come himself.

AT THE THEATER

The wonderfully successful melo-
drama, "The Span of Life," which has
been for eight years the greatest
theatrical success of four continents,
will be presented this season by the
strongest company of actors yet engaged in its production, including the
daring and skillful acrobats, the Don-azzetas, whose athletic feats are marvelous even to their wouldbe rivals.
It will be seen in its entirety at the
opera house next Saturday evening
and this will probably be the last chance offered for seeing it, as the
company are engaged for an Australian tour next season.

"The Wise Guy" engagement at the Grand Thursday night will be a clever
vaudeville farce. It is heralded as an innovation in farce comedy and
is supposed to impart a laugh. "A Wise Guy" differs from most of the
present day so-called farce comedies.
The management, it is said, submits
be improved upon and each is credit-
ed with individual hits in characters
of similar nature with "The Wise
Guy" last season.

Miss Octavie Barbe, one of the cleverest mimics on the stage and the acknowledged superior of Vesty Til-
lie, is the leading lady with the Or-
pheon Extravaganza company, of Chicago, which will be seen at the Grand
tonight. Miss Barbe is happily at home in the Weber-Field style of comedy, having had a year's schooling in
the best travesty companies of America and England and having that rare
talent of mimicry so seldom found in
a woman.

"At Cripple Creek," Hal Reid's latest drama, is full of the vicissitudes
of life and perils in a western mining
camp in the early eighties. The magnificent scenery of the Rockies has
been reproduced with startling realism
and many novel effects enhance these
striking pictures of camp life. A charming love story replete with acts
of chivalry moves with absorbing
life "At Cripple Creek."

"At the Old Cross Roads," which comes to the Grand on Mar. 17, is one
of the most magnificent productions
taken in the selection of the cast, and
it will be the same as the original.
The ushers only secured the attraction
after much difficulty and upon a big
guarantee. The advance sale is already very large.

"The Two Vagrants" was presented
to a large house at the Grand last evening. The play was put on in an able manner and was one which appealed especially to the women.

Sevres China company, left this morning for New Cumberland, where he
Chelsea.

Ship Subsidy Bill Again Debated.
Washington, March 4.—The ship
subsidy bill was further discussed in the senate yesterday by Mr. Frye. His remarks were directed principally to
the Republican senators, and he gave
further expression to his views that
the subsidy bill was a logical response
obviated to the demands and principals
of the Republican party, and that in
its preparation he had obviated the
objections entertained by Senators
friendly to the measure. No other
senators desiring to speak yesterday,
the bill was laid aside and a number
of other bills were passed.

POTTERY NEWS

There have been received in this
city notices reading as follows:

"A special meeting of the stock-
holders of the Union Potteries company will be held at the registered
place, Jersey City, N. J., March 11, at 10 o'clock. At this meeting a resolution will be presented to the stockholders ratifying the sale or other disposition of the Chelsea and Union pot-
teries."

follows:

"And be it resolved further that the board of directors of the company be
and are hereby authorized and empowered to make such sale and disposition of the property and assets of
seal, execute and deliver such agreements, assignments, conveyances and
other instruments or assurances as
may be necessary or proper to consummate and carry into effect such
sale and disposition."

Jiggermen's local No. 12 met last evening with the largest turnout for
years. Seven applications were received, five for reinstatement and two
for initiation. It is expected before
the convention meets every jiggerman
in the city will be a member. A resolution was acted upon and will be put
in shape for the delegates. Also a copy will be sent to the different locals. One transfer card was received
from East Palestine. The following
delegates were elected to the convention: George Wilson, Frank Gratten,
George White, Harry Jenkins, Walter
McKeone. The alternates are: William Anderson, Mike Lynch, Bert Al-
lison, John Reark, Charles Owen. The
delegates elected are all old timers,
all having been delegates to previous
conventions and will give a good account of themselves.

Local No. 10, turners and handlers
at a meeting Monday evening elected
delegates to the Trenton convention
as follows: Turners, Samuel Burgess,
Smith-Phillips company; Gustav
Wetzell, Taylor, Smith & Taylor;
handlers, Mr. Martin, Smith-Phillips
company. Alternates, William Mc-
Keever, Dresden; Joseph McKinney,
Laughlin No. 2; Frank Huff, Laughlin
No. 1. It is said the resolutions that will be presented to the convention
by these delegates will not be made
public until the convention is called
to order. However, it is announced
that some important concessions will
be asked by this branch of the trade
from the convention.

Quite a sensational move was made
by those who have been working for
the handle makers and finishers. It
has been decided to disband the organization until after the Trenton con-
at the head of the movement are able
to secure a hall in which a meeting
can be held on any night except Saturday. There has not been as large attendance at these past meetings as
has been desired.

In order that all business may be
officials of kilnmen's local No. 9 have
issued a call for the meeting to begin
at 7 o'clock instead of the usual hour.
This will be the session of sessions,
as 10 delegates to the Trenton convention will be elected and 10 alternates.
Already 28 members have been nominated and the nominations will again be opened Friday evening. Much
other important business will be considered.

Saggermakers' local No. 16, at a meeting Monday evening, received one
proposition for membership. The fol-
Trenton convention: William Price,
Diamond; William Conkle, Thomp-
son's; Fred Booth, Dresden. The al-
ternates are: William Hines, Taylor,
Smith & Taylor; Charles Hays, Smith-
Phillips Co. The resolutions from
this local have not been prepared,
this matter to be taken up for discussion next Monday evening.

It was stated in pottery circles this afternoon that a meeting of several
pottery manufacturers would be held
in the east within a few days for the purpose of considering plans with reference to bringing their business into closer relationship. Who these manufacturers were could not be learned,
but it is announced that details regarding this conference will be made
known in this city early next week.

All arrangements have been completed for the association foot ball
game which is to be played at Columbian park Saturday afternoon between clubs representing the Buckeye
and Laughlin No. 2 decorating departments. Interest in the game is increasing and a large attendance is anticipated.

At a meeting of jiggermen's local
No. 12 last evening many jiggermen brought five-inch plates with them.
This was done for the purpose of having them presented to the standing committee which it is expected will meet within a few days.

Frank W. Fowler, of the Union Pot-
teries company, of this city and Pittsburg, was in the city yesterday, inspecting the improvements being
made to the Union in the clay shops.
He returned to his home last evening.

A. L. Seckerson, A. L. McFarland
and John Tarr have been elected delegates to the Trenton convention from Gilders' local No. 19, with William
Heath, Joseph Bloor and Frank Shing-
ler as alternates.

ton, Ont., where he will visit his family for several days. He expects to bring his family with him upon his
return to this city.

Aaron Coleman, president of No. 9,
a biscuit kilnman at the Buckeye, is
unable to work on account of suffering
with a large boil on his neck. It is causing him much pain.

Lyman Earl, a glost kilnman at the Laughlin No. 2, has been off duty
for several days on account of the
serious illness of his daughter, at her
home on Seventh street.

The Imperial China company last
evening shipped an order to Wheeling
on the Kanawha, consisting of 52 packages, the majority of which were casks.

George Cannon, a presser at Mc-
Nicol's, is helping out at the East
Liverpool for a few days. He will re-

The Chelsea, at New Cumberland,
will resume operations in full in a few days. The plant suffered but
slightly from the high water.

George Calhoun, mold runner for
Bert Allison, a cup jiggerman at the Union, is confined to his home on account of illness.

James Green, bench boss at the Di-
the "old end" while the Diamond is
shut down.

The mold makers' local will meet
tomorrow evening for the purpose of electing delegates to the Trenton convention.

Sol Leonard, formerly a kilnman at
the East Liverpool plant, has joined
the glost crew at Brunt's.

After a shut down of two days
work was resumed in full at the Union
yesterday.

New Cumberland Boy Terribly Injured
By a Cartridge Exploding.

New Cumberland, March 5.—Wesley Brandon, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brandon, met with a serious accident yesterday noon which may result in the loss of both eyes. The lad, in company with a number of other boys, was engaged in play when he found a cartridge.

Cutting the bullet out with a knife, young Brandon held it in his hand while another boy touched a match to the brass shell. An explosion followed and the powder flashed up into the lad's face. The physicians fear that the eyesight is destroyed.

Building Must Be Raised.

The recent soft weather has had a serious effect on the foundation under the residence of Howard Rogers, on Carolina avenue. When the house was built last fall the tile used for the cellar walls was too light, and the heavy weight, together with the soft weather, has caused them to crumble. The structure will now have to be raised and practically a new wall built.

Free Lecture By Dr. Holtz.

Legal Circles Quiet.

Matters in Chester legal circles are very quiet today. "Squire" Johnston failed to put in an appearance at his office this morning and is probably snowed out at his home in the country. The storm was evidently too much for Attorney Ingram, who also failed to appear.

Will Make Improvements.

The American Sewer Pipe company has decided to add $15,000 worth of improvements to the Black Horse works, near New Cumberland. Eight addition tunnel dryers will be put in, and a new clay crusher and four more presses.

AND MRS. ELMER SMITH WANTED HIM ARRESTED.

Officer Acted as Mediator and the Couple Was Restored to Happiness.

Mrs. Elmer Smith called on Mayor Dennis last evening and filed a charge against her husband, asking that he be put under bond to keep the peace. She stated that she was afraid to go home, as she knew her husband was lying in wait for her, and that she was afraid he would do her bodily injury.

An officer went in company with the woman, and on reaching the electric light plant, found Smith hiding behind the building. He made no effort to do anything rash, and after some persuasion on the part of the officer he took his wife in his embrace, and after hugging her a few times, started home with her in a joyous mood.

It is said Mrs. Smith used a club on her husband a few days ago and gave him a severe beating.

PROPERTY OWNERS MAD

Those Whose Cellars Were Flooded From Sewers Are Going After Council.

Owing to the recent flood 50 houses in the back end of the city were damaged. Back water coming through the sewers from both the upper and lower parts of the town caused the cellars to be flooded, and those living in the houses are finding fault because shut-off valves were not placed in the sewers when put down.

At the meeting of council, which is to be held tonight, a number of "kicks" are to be registered.

House Again Discussed Rural Free Delivery Yesterday.

Washington, March 5.—The House spent another day yesterday in discussion of the bill to classify the rural free delivery service and place the carriers under the contract system. No vote was reached and it is doubtful whether one will be had to-day, as the list of speakers is still large. The fate of the bill is in doubt, although the impression prevailing is that it will be defeated.

The speakers yesterday were Messrs. Smith (Dem., Ky.), Gardner (N. J.), Williams (Miss.), in favor, and Messrs. Landis (Ind.), Maddox (Ga.), and Hill (Conn.), against the measure. SLAVERY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Men, Women and Children Are Held for Debt in the Moro Islands.

Washington, March 5.—The extent of the slavery in the Philippines was discussed by Gov. Taft before the house insular committee yesterday in response to questions by members. He said in part that slavery was confined to the southern Moro islands. The investigation made by Gov. Taft and his associates had brought out that the slaves included men, women and children, who were slaves for debt, according to the statements made by the dates. The slaves could buy their liberty, but until this was done the condition ran from generation to generation. The slaves were members of the family and the relation was comparatively mild, if it was possible to consider any form of slavery mild. Gov. Taft said Dato Mandi had already abolished slavery by decree. How effective this was could not be stated. "It indicates," said Gov. Taft, "how willing they are to consider our desires and the possibilities of eradicating the system."

The civil authorities had never recognized slavery in any way, he said, and the military had always released slaves. But the slaves did not understand the advantage of liberty and Gov. Taft said that if we attempted to end slavery by force, we would probably find the slaves turning their guns against us. The influence of the United States was, however, growing stronger and stronger for the eradication of slavery, although our wishes had been made known, yet neither the civil nor military authorities had said slavery must cease or war would be made.

SLAVERY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Men, Women and Children Are Held for Debt in the Moro Islands.

Washington, March 5.—The extent of the slavery in the Philippines was discussed by Gov. Taft before the house insular committee yesterday in response to questions by members. He said in part that slavery was confined to the southern Moro islands. The investigation made by Gov. Taft and his associates had brought out that the slaves included men, women and children, who were slaves for debt, according to the statements made by the dates. The slaves could buy their liberty, but until this was done the condition ran from generation to generation. The slaves were members of the family and the relation was comparatively mild, if it was possible to consider any form of slavery mild. Gov. Taft said Dato Mandi had already abolished slavery by decree. How effective this was could not be stated. "It indicates," said Gov. Taft, "how willing they are to consider our desires and the possibilities of eradicating the system."

The civil authorities had never recognized slavery in any way, he said, and the military had always released slaves. But the slaves did not understand the advantage of liberty and Gov. Taft said that if we attempted to end slavery by force, we would probably find the slaves turning their guns against us. The influence of the United States was, however, growing stronger and stronger for the eradication of slavery, although our wishes had been made known, yet neither the civil nor military authorities had said slavery must cease or war would be made.

Roberts Resigns From Executive Committee of U. S. Steel Combine.

THE PRESIDENT WAS RE-ELECTED

Also the Other Officers of the Corporation, Whose Terms Expired—Agreement of Tin Plate Scale May Be Reached Today.

New York, March 4.—The directors of the United States Steel Corporation met yesterday and re-elected President Schwab and all the other officers whose terms expire. Otherwise only routine business was transacted.

Percival Roberts, Jr., resigned his membership in the executive committee. His resignation was accepted, but a successor was not named. He did not resign from the board of directors.

Mr. Roberts was president of the American Bridge company when it was merged into the U. S. Steel corporation. He represented a total capitalization of $80,000,000. The Herald to-morrow will print an interview with Mr. Roberts in which he is quoted as saying:

"I have not agreed with Mr. Schwab for some time regarding certain features of the policy which Mr. Schwab supports."

TIN PLATE WAGE SCALE.

Probably Will Be Settled in New York Today.

New York, March 5.—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and a delegation representing the executive committee of that organization were in conference yesterday with the officials of the American Tin Plate company, regarding the scale of wages for the current year. Mr. Shaffer's party includes William O'Brien and W. J. Williams, of Ellwood, Ind.; John Quinn of Granite City; G. K. Price, John Williams, Charles Typpea and C. J. Frazee.

When the conference adjourned till today the labor men were in good spirits, but declined to say what had transpired in their talk with the tin plate officials.

A representative of the company said, however, that the meeting had been thoroughly harmonious throughout, and that such differences as remained would probably be amicably settled at today's meeting.

ETRURIA IN TOW.

Lost Her Propeller and Steering Gear. All Were Reported Well.

New York, March 5.—The Evening World yesterday printed a dispatch from one of its reporters who is a passenger on the Etruria. The dispatch, which was taken from the Etruria to the Azores by the oil tank steamer Ottawa, which spoke the Etruria on Friday, is as follows:

"The Etruria lost her propeller and steering gear in mid-Atlantic on the evening of February 26. Drifted helplessly in a heavy sea all night, making continuous signals. Too much cannot be said for the bravery and coolness of Captain Stephens, whose example filled the passengers and crew with courage."

"They are trying to tow the Etruria to the Azores. As I write we are now in tow of the steamer William Cliff, but are making no headway. Wind and sea against us and Cliff not strong enough to do more than hold us steady."

"All are well on board, and after the first excitement everything has been quiet. They are trying to lash spars to make a rudder. Captain of oil tank steamer Ottawa, from Philadelphia, has promised to file this at first port touched. Captain Stephens wishes to assure all that there is no danger."

A GENTLEMAN—WHAT IS HE?

ONESTY IS PERHAPS THE FIRST QUALIFICATION OF A GENTLEMAN—NOT ALONE HONESTY IN BUSINESS DEALINGS, BUT IN ALL SOCIAL AND ETHICAL RELATIONS.

The man who is supposed to hold his wife and family first in his heart and consideration, but who is at the same time professing the same attachment and bestowing the same care upon some other woman, is most certainly not a gentleman. He may have more millions than any other man on earth, he may have more intellectual power than the most intellectual man who ever lived, in manners and exterior polish he may serve as a model for imitators; still he is not honest. To him the word "gentleman" cannot be applied.

Honorable, upright, pure, true, charitable and generous are some other adjectives which may be used in describing a man who is a gentleman.

KINDNESS, INBORN AND INBRED, SHOULD BE ALWAYS IN THE HEART OF A GENTLEMAN. THE MAN WHOSE POLITENESS DOES NOT SPRING FROM KINDNESS IS NOT A GENTLEMAN.

All the other traits are children of this one great quality. The man who is absolutely kind is not likely to be dishonest, uncharitable or ungenerous. He is not an idler while others labor nor a gentleman who is so only through artificial polish.

Idleness does not constitute gentility. That is where the modern and usually accepted definition of the word "gentleman" is entirely wrong. I think idleness is conducive to very bad habits.

The newspapers are responsible for much of the modern mistaken idea of what constitutes a gentleman. Too much of their influence has been directed toward giving undue prominence to persons whose wealth alone entitles them to consideration in the great whirl and dash of twentieth century life.

Fred E. Borton, secretary, and C. W. Wason, purchasing agent. The resignations of Mr. Everett and Mr. Wason from the directorate were also tendered.

Mr. Everett said yesterday: "The syndicate headed by Mr. Andrews will take the syndicate stock in the Big Consolidated next Saturday."

The Big Consolidated controls and operates fully two-thirds of the electric traction lines in this city.

THE GOLDEN RULE.

The Golden Rule is worldwide and is variously voiced as follows:

Do as you would be done by.—Persian.

Do not that to a neighbor which you would take ill from him.—Greek.

What you would not wish done to yourself do not unto others.—Chinese.

One should seek for others the happiness one desires for oneself.—Buddhist.

He sought for others the good he desired for himself. Let him pass on.—Egyptian.

All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them.—Christian.

Let none of you treat his brother in a way he himself would dislike to be treated.—Mohammedan.

The true rule in business is to guard and do by the things of others as they do by their own.—Hindoo.

The law imprinted on the hearts of all men is to love the members of society as themselves.—Roman.

Whatsoever you do not wish your neighbor to do to you do not unto him. This is the whole law. The rest is a mere exposition of it.—Jewish.

THE PARTS VIANDS PLAY IN MARRIAGE CEREMONIES.

Sweetheart Cakes of a Dutch Damsel—Egyptian Bridegrooms Must Work For Their Supper—Wine in China—Married by Candy.

The important part which different viands play in marriage ceremonies makes rather an interesting story.

For example, the Swedish bride fills her pocket with bread, which she dispenses to every one she meets on her way to church, every piece she gives away averting, as she believes, a misfortune.

On the threshold of her new home a bride in Serbia is presented with a plate of bonbons, one of which she and the bridegroom share between them, the divided bonbon signifying that no bitterness shall divide them. A sieve of wheat corn is also given to the bride. Of this she takes three handfuls, throws it over her head, emptying the sieve upon the ground. The scattered corn denotes that the bride brings joy and prosperity into her new home. The bride is still outside the door, nor can she enter until she has placed two loaves of bread beneath her arms and taken a bottle of wine into her hands. With these emblems she at length crosses the threshold of her future home. At the first meal of the newly married pair bread and wine must be taken by both to denote that thenceforward all they have shall be equally divided between them and that their married life shall be passed in unity and fidelity.

A Russian wedding culminates in the betrothal feast, at which the bride elect in return for a long tress of hair which she has given to the bridegroom receives bread and salt and an almond cake.

In Holland if a young man is in love with a girl and wishes to ask her hand in marriage he buys a small sweet cake and, wrapping it up in soft paper, proceeds to the house of his innamorata. He is ushered into the midst of the family circle. Without a word he walks up to the young lady and lays the cake on the table before her. The rest of the family affect not to notice anything unusual and continue their work or their reading. The young man turns aside and talks to the father or mother on some very ordinary subject, keeping his eyes eagerly fixed on the girl while he is conversing. If she accepts his offer, she takes up the cake and eats it. If she is a coquettish damsel, she tortures the young man by turning it over and playing with it before she decides to taste it and then enraptures him by eating it to the last crumb. If, on the other hand, she wishes to have nothing more to do with her admirer, she puts it back on the table. The young man takes up the cake and, with a "Vaarvoal byzamen," leaves the house. The matter is then kept a profound secret by both families, and the outer world never hears of it. In place of a wedding cake in Holland wedding candles are given—"bruid zuikers" they are called. They are passed around by children and are served in flower trimmed baskets.

Bride pudding is the name of the piece de resistance served at a Norse peasant wedding. This is not brought on the table until the last day of the festivities, three or five days being given up to feasting and merrymaking. The appearance of the bride pudding is the signal of dismissal, and at the close of the feast the guests say farewell, presenting at the same time their gifts, which consist of cash. This the bride receives, the bridegroom presenting each donor with a glass of wine. Partaking of two tiny glasses of wine is all the ceremony necessary to make a marriage in some Chinese provinces, provided a quantity of fireworks are set off. These are to wake the "great joss" from his sleep that he may witness the ceremony.

At a Hebrew wedding man and wife sip from one cup of wine, symbolizing participation in the joys and pain of earthly life. The emptied goblet is placed on the floor and crushed into a thousand pieces by the bridegroom, who thus shows that he will put his foot on all evils that may enter the family circle.

At an Egyptian wedding feast meat is not eaten because of the belief that it would lead to future bickerings between them. Eggs, fruits and sweets are served. The first meal in the new house cannot be touched until, after every device known to the bridegroom, the bride has been at last induced to speak. Once she utters a word, he claps his hands, and supper is brought to them.

Married by candy is the plan in Burma. Of all marriage rites this takes the palm for conciseness and sweet simplicity. Here the dusky lady takes the initiative. Seeing a youth who pleases her, she offers him a sweet. If he accepts her proposal, he promptly eats the token of affection, and they are thereby made man and wife. In the act of eating alone this most primitive rite consists. If the youth be not favorably disposed, he remarks with all gallantry that that particular candy is not to his taste, and the matter is ended. In Mandalay three weeks after a marriage kinsmen bring the bridegroom a bowl of rice, a vessel of wine and a fowl, much of which collation is sacrificed to the spirits of ancestors. A Bagoda bride—in the Philippines—if she be good looking and the daughter of a warrior, is sold by her father for about $30, which sum is not given in money, but in vegetables and chickens. One way of estimating such things is at the price of a brass gong. Such a gong is worth thirty silver dollars, and it is a valuable maiden indeed who will bring two brass gongs.—What to Eat.

The Finger Posts Marking the Many By-Paths of Present Day Troubles All Seem to Point the Same Way. Lack of Nerve Force.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world is able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done more for me to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkin's drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

They Wanted a Rest.

A Scottish congregation presented their minister with a sum of money and sent him off to the continent for a holiday.

A gentleman just come from the continent met a prominent member of the church and said to him:

"Oh, by the bye, I met your minister in Germany. He was looking very well—he didn't look as if he needed a rest."

"No," said the church member very calmly; "it was na' him; it was the congregation that was needin' a rest."—Pearson's Weekly.

HOME STUDY COURSE
L.L.D.

The National Period of American Literature

BY LORENZO SEARS, LIT. D.,
 Professor of American Literature in Brown University.

Letters among other effects of the shock. If the name of the Knickerbocker school be too large for the little group of authors who followed Dietrich, the historian, afar, it may be said that the term was applied to less dignified objects in the "day of its immense popularity and to more worthy ones since."

The New York Evening Post had been established in the first year of the century with a hospitable policy toward letters, as well as a critical spirit which enhanced the honor of appearing in its columns. To gain admittance to them was next to having a book published. On the street and in coffee houses were knots of young men with corresponding ambitions notwithstanding the commercial bias of the city and the material bent of the age. Foremost among them was a banker's clerk who was not so far lost in arithmetical figures that he could not appreciate poetical and even wished that he might "lounge upon a rainbow and read Tom Campbell," a sentiment with which a bystander agreed. In this way Fitz-Greene Halleck and Joseph Rodman Drake became acquainted in the spring of 1819, the beginning of a literary companionship as intimate as it was brief, for Drake died the next year.

Judged by what he had begun to do, this young poet was cut down at the opening of a promising career. His early essays found their subjects for satire in the topics of the town, but descriptive and patriotic pieces soon followed, the address to the American flag deserving a higher place than all that have succeeded it. A more remarkable feat was the production in two or three days of "The Culprit Fay" in refutation of an assertion that it would be difficult to write a fairy poem purely imaginative without the aid of human characters. He accomplished this work with no nearer approach to humanity than in these two lines:

For an Ouphe has broken his vestal vow;
 He has loved an earthly maid.

The rest is the fanciful account of the consequences of such a high misdemeanor, full of delicate art and the traceries of an imagination at home with the hidden things of nature, itself idealized and peopled with intelligences of the poet's own creating. It is the midsummer night's dream of an airy fancy.

The entire poem should be the delight of children who dwell on the border land of the seen and the unseen.

Halleck survived to write an elegy upon his friend, which shows how far the art had progressed since the days of Mather; also to continue the strain of American verse which the two friends had joined in contributing to the columns of The Evening Post. Afterward he was stirred by the wrongs of suffering Greece to lift up the voice of freedom in "Marco Bozzaris." Whoever has lost a friend of his youth will associate with the recollection of his sorrow the lament of Halleck for his companion, beginning:

Green be the turf above thee,
 Friend of my better days!
 None knew thee but to love thee
 Nor named thee but to praise.

Clement C. Moore has a place among the writers who were inspired by Dutch traditions to produce a Knickerbocker literature. No doubt the theological professor expected to rest his fame upon the first Hebrew and English lexicon compiled in this country or upon his version of Lavardin's "History of George Castriot." Instead, when he is placed among the immortals it will be in recognition of his "Visit From St. Nicholas," which all children know begins:

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
 Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

Gulian C. Verplanck was a New Yorker whose services to literature entitle him to mention. First a lawyer, then a politician and afterward a lecturer in divinity, his pen was seldom idle. "Essays on Revealed Religion" and the "Doctrine of Contrasts" were the more substantial results, while "The State Trumvirate" and "The Ceremony of Installation" are in a lighter vein. As a member of congress he was prominent in obtaining the extension of the term of copyright from 28 to 42 years. Later he was associated with Sands and Bryant in The Talisman, a publication containing some of the best writing of the time. In his addresses on art, history and literature and "The Influence and Use of Liberal Studies," and especially on "The American Scholar," he anticipated some of the more recent essayists and orators who have made kindred themes the subjects of high discussion.

William Cullen Bryant may be considered as an adopted member of the Knickerbocker group since he was not born in New York, but on the Hampshire hills of western Massachusetts. However, he was not long in finding his way to the metropolis and to the little circle which made it the literary center of the country at the time. A copy of Irving's "Knickerbocker" had traveled into the lonely village where young Bryant was reading law and gave him a taste of what was possible in lower latitudes. Hitherto his reading had been among the professional books of his father's medical library, varied by the Latin poets, the Greek Testament, Watts' hymns, Pope's "Iliad" and an unusual number of English classics for that period. But meter and rhyme were a part of his nature and blossomed out in juvenile verses, religious and political, to the delight of his father and to his own subsequent chagrin.

To these there were two notable exceptions, left at home when he went away to practice law in Great Barrington. His father found them one day six years afterward when rummaging in a drawer, read them himself and to a neighbor and without asking his son's permission started posthaste for Boston and the editor of The North American Review, then a two-year-old magazine.

If this overland journey of 100 miles was a remarkable instance of paternal pride, there was something to warrant it, for one of the poems was, "Thanatopsis" and the other "An Inscription Upon the Entrance to a Wood." The first of these was enough to establish the youth as a poet of no common order. It came to a reflective people in an age when the shadow of gloom had not entirely passed, having a sad note that appeals to every reader in sober days and raising visions of the sublimity, majesty and vastness of the universe which bring a pleasing awe to the soul of man in the presence of infinity and futurity. It is a poem of the intellect rather than the heart, grand, austere, solemn, a funeral anthem of the human race.

The golden sun,
 The planets, all the infinite host of heaven,
 Are shining on the sad abodes of death
 Through the still lapse of ages.

But he wrote other poems that readers like better than this requiem of the universe, and in them all is the note of nature, struck by a sympathetic observer not of her gracious moods alone, but of the severe and fateful as well. Out of them all, however, he drew lessons of truth or beauty or morals. He finds the law of guidance in the flight of the lone waterfowl across the December sky and of hope in the fringed gentian blossoming on the border of water. "The Forest Hymn," "The Death of the Flowers," "The Song of the Lover" and others longer or shorter are charged with the bloom of summer and frosts of winter and tinted with the hues of spring and autumn. He inclines to the last season with the sober inheritance from a Puritan ancestry and writes:

 Of falling winds and naked woods and meadows brown and sere.

Yet into "The Little People of the Snow" he has put a sympathetic strain, such as is not always found with eulogists of winter and never with shivering goblins about it. But then he survived the rigors of 20 Cunningham winters before he went to New York and the sultriness of as many summers and thereupon could also write:

The quiet August noon has come,
 A slumbrous silence fills the sky;
 The fields are still; the woods are dumb;
 In glassy sleep the waters lie.

Open the volume of 116 poems anywhere and some phase of nature is presented, usually in her quiet majesty. Sometimes patriotic and national strains appear, as in "The Song of Marion's Men," "The Green Mountain Boys," "Our Country's Call" and "O Mother of a Mighty Race," but the return is speedy to "The White-Footed Deer," "The Hunter of the Prairies" and "The Death of the Flowers." He is pre-eminently the poet of the woods and waters, of earth and sky, of summer and winter, of the times and seasons, the days and the years.

Bryant's verse will always have its own charm for New Englanders and for their descendants, wherever they may live. They love the moods of nature with which the fathers played and fought by turns. The viking blood in their veins still makes them sing:

The winds from off the Norseman's hills
 Do shriek a fearsome song;
 There's music in the shrieking winds
 That blow my bark along.

Besides, there is in his poems the flower of that imagination which, in spite of his pretended indifference, was in the Puritan's soul. It finally blossomed out early in this century like a crocus on the sunny edge of a snow-drift in northwestern Massachusetts. It revealed in the solemn, the sublime, the severe, as the forefathers had for 200 years. Moreover, the first great poet had all their conscientiousness in his performance of his task, even if he did break with their Calvinism. His measure is exact, his rhyme is perfect, and, more than all, his moral tone is without a flaw. There are in it both strength and health.

NEW YORK CASH RESERVE.

May Be Wiped Out This Week—
 Probably $5,000,000 in Gold
 Will Be Exported.

New York, March 5.—The day's stock market for the greater part of the day represented the retracing of Monday's upward course in the regular process of taking profits on a small turn, which is a characteristic of a narrow professional market. Late in the day, however, the selling movement gained appreciable force and carried prices downward by rapid stages to the lowest of the day, making the closing active and weak. The market also broadened out considerably in the late selling movement and the dealings were much better distributed than at any other time during the day. The standard stocks were as greatly affected as some of the minor specialties which have lately been so conspicuous in the market.

The growing dimensions of the requirements upon New York cash reserves seemed to be the cause of the rather acute uneasiness manifested. The engagement of gold for export announced yesterday for Thursday's and Saturday's steamers and estimates of others likely to be made indicate the probability of an outgo of $5,000,000 or over this week to foreign shores. The underwriting syndicate of the San Francisco traction organization called upon its subscribers yesterday for a 20 per cent payment on Thursday. This means the remittance to San Francisco at that time of about $4,000,000. It is true that this operation will mean no encroachment upon the country's available money supply, as the treasury authorities will pay out in San Francisco immediately the amount deposited in the sub-treasury in New York, but the operation involves a depletion of New York bank reserves nevertheless.

The sub-treasury had already taken from the New York money market since Friday on routine operations $3,111,000. With the surplus reserves of the banks last week below $10,000,000, these figures indicate sufficient requirements to wipe out the surplus entirely. Under the average systems of computation it is also expected that part of last week's decrease in cash reserves will be felt in this week's bank statement. The confidence which has been felt in the continued ease of the money market in face of these developing factors was partly based upon the belief in government bond circles that government bonds would be offered to the treasury department for redemption in case of any real need in the money market. As a matter of fact, bonds to the par value of a million dollars were offered to the sub-treasury late yesterday, for which $1,122,401 was paid in cash, but this did not seem to relieve the apprehension of a possible money squeeze. It was noticeable also that the sterling exchange market was affected by the offering of bills against the gold exchanged for export, so that rate yielded a fraction, which was not the case when gold was engaged last week.

London, March 5.—Telegrams received here from Klerksdorp describing the attack and capture by the Boers, Feb. 24, at a point southwest of Klerksdorp, of 467 British soldiers who were acting as convoy to an empty wagon train, show that Gen. For two hours the British held out. They then divided and were overwhelmed. A few minutes of incautious fighting and all was over.

Norfolk, Va., March 5.—A mob of 500 strike sympathizers thronged the streets of Norfolk yesterday, on which the main line of the Norfolk Railway and Light company's cars were run, and the police were unable to cope with it from noon until after dark, when the cars, which were guarded by detachments of military and had run with difficulty all day, were housed in the barns.

Woman Handy With Her Fists.

In one instance a sergeant ran a bayonet into the arm of H. H. Harman, a barber. Mrs. Harman, who was standing by her husband at the time, knocked the sergeant to the ground with both fists and discolored the face of Lieut. E. R. Gale, who was near her. Several soldiers were struck by missiles thrown through the windows of the cars. A number of arrests were made by both the police and military.

Last night it was determined that martial law will be declared in Norfolk this morning. Four more infantry companies from Emporia, Suffolk, Smithfield and Franklin, making the entire Seventy-first regiment, have been ordered out.

HOME STUDY COURSE

EDITED BY E. BENJAMIN ANDREWS LL.D.

Professor of American Literature in Brown University.

Letters among other effects of the shock. If the name of the Knickerbocker school be too large for the little group of authors who followed Diedrich, the historian, afar, it may be said that the term was applied to less dignified objects in the "day of its immense popularity and to more worthy ones since.

The New York Evening Post had been established in the first year of the century with a hospitable policy toward letters, as well as a critical spirit which enhanced the honor of appearing in its columns. To gain admittance to them was next to having a book published. On the street and in coffee houses were knots of young men with corresponding ambitions notwithstanding the commercial bias of the city and the material bent of the age. Foremost among them was a banker's clerk who was not so far lost in arithmetical figures that he could not appreciate poetical and even wished that he might "lounge upon a rainbow and read Tom Campbell," a sentiment with which a bystander agreed. In this way Fitz-Greene Halleck and Joseph Rodman Drake became acquainted in the spring of 1819, the beginning of a literary companionship as intimate as it was brief, for Drake died the next year.

Judged by what he had begun to do, this young poet was cut down at the opening of a promising career. His early essays found their subjects for satire in the topics of the town, but descriptive and patriotic pieces soon followed, the address to the American flag deserving a higher place than all that have succeeded it. A more remarkable feat was the production in two or three days of "The Culprit Fay" in refutation of an assertion that it would be difficult to write a fairy poem purely imaginative without the aid of human characters. He accomplished this work with no nearer approach to humanity than in these two lines:

For an Ouphe has broken his vestal vow;
He has loved an earthly maid.

The rest is the fanciful account of the consequences of such a high misdemeanor, full of delicate art and the traceries of an imagination at home with the hidden things of nature, itself idealized and peopled with intelligences of the poet's own creating. It is the midsummer night's dream of an airy fancy. The entire poem should be the delight of children who dwell on the border land of the seen and the unseen.

Halleck survived to write an elegy upon his friend, which shows how far the art had progressed since the days of Mather; also to continue the strain of American verse which the two friends had joined in contributing to the columns of The Evening Post. Afterward he was stirred by the wrongs of suffering Greece to lift up the voice of freedom in "Marco Bozzaris." Whoever has lost a friend of his youth will associate with the recollection of his sorrow the lament of Halleck for his companion, beginning:

Green be the turf above thee,
Friend of my better days!
None knew thee but to love thee
Nor named thee but to praise.

Clement C. Moore has a place among the writers who were inspired by Dutch traditions to produce a Knickerbocker literature. No doubt the theological professor expected to rest his fame upon the first Hebrew and English lexicon compiled in this country or upon his version of Lavardin's "History of George Castriot." Instead, when he is placed among the immortals it will be in recognition of his "Visit From St. Nicholas," which all children know begins:

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

Gullian C. Verplanck was a New Yorker whose services to literature entitle him to mention. First a lawyer, then a politician and afterward a lecturer in divinity, his pen was seldom idle. "Essays on Revealed Religion" and the "Doctrine of Contrasts" were the more substantial results, while "The State Trumvirate" and "The Ceremony of Installation" are in a lighter vein. As a member of congress he was prominent in obtaining the extension of the term of copyright from 28 to 42 years. Later he was associated with Sands and Bryant in The Talisman, a publication containing some of the best writing of the time. In his addresses on art, history and literature and "The Influence and Use of Liberal Studies," and especially on "The American Scholar," he anticipated some of the more recent essayists and orators who have made kindred themes the subjects of high discussion.

William Cullen Bryant may be considered as an adopted member of the Knickerbocker group since he was not born in New York, but on the Hampshire hills of western Massachusetts. However, he was not long in finding his way to the metropolis and to the little circle which made it the literary center of the country at the time. A copy of Irving's "Knickerbocker" had traveled into the lonely village where young Bryant was reading law and gave him a taste of what was possible in lower latitudes. Hitherto his reading had been among the professional books of his father's medical library, varied by the Latin poets, the Greek Testament, Watts' hymns, Pope's "Iliad" and an unusual number of English classics for that period. But meter and rhyme were a part of his nature and blossomed out in juvenile verses, religious and political, to the delight of his father and to his own subsequent chagrin.

To these there were two notable exceptions, left at home when he went away to practice law in Great Barrington. His father found them one day six years afterward when rummaging in a drawer, read them himself and to a neighbor and without asking his son's permission started posthaste for Boston and the editor of The North American Review, then a two-year-old magazine.

If this overland journey of 100 miles was a remarkable instance of paternal pride, there was something to warrant it, for one of the poems was, "Thanatopsis" and the other "An Inscription Upon the Entrance to a Wood." The first of these was enough to establish the youth as a poet of no common order. It came to a reflective people in an age when the shadow of gloom had not entirely passed, having a sad note that appeals to every reader in sober days and raising visions of the sublimity, majesty and vastness of the universe which bring a pleasing awe to the soul of man in the presence of infinity and futurity. It is a poem of the intellect rather than the heart, grand, austere, solemn, a funeral anthem of the human race.

The golden sun,
The planets, all the infinite host of heaven,
Are shining on the sad abodes of death
Through the still lapse of ages.

But he wrote other poems that readers like better than this requiem of the universe, and in them all is the note of nature, struck by a sympathetic observer not of her gracious moods alone, but of the severe and fateful as well. Out of them all, however, he drew lessons of truth or beauty or morals. He finds the law of guidance in the flight of the lone waterfowl across the December sky and of hope in the fringed gentian blossoming on the border of water. "The Forest Hymn," "The Death of the Flowers," "The Song of the Lover" and others longer or shorter are charged with the bloom of summer and frosts of winter and tinted with the hues of spring and autumn. He inclines to the last season with the sober inheritance from a Puritan ancestry and writes:

The melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year,
Of wailing winds and naked woods and meadows brown and sere.

Yet into "The Little People of the Snow" he has put a sympathetic strain, such as is not always found with eulogists of winter and never with shivering rambles about it. But then he survived the rigors of 20 Cumington winters before he went to New York and the sultriness of as many summers and thereupon could also write:

The quiet August noon has come,
A slumberous silence fills the sky;
The fields are still; the waters are dumb;
In glassy sleep the waters lie.

NO writer of Irving's genius could spring up in a barren age without inspiring such mediocre talent as might be inclined to lethargy. The mere stirring of fallow ground will send up unsuspected growths, and the awakening which the keen humorist gave the drowsy men of Manhattan started a crop of

BUILDERS' BANQUET

Annual Meeting of the Exchange Last Evening—A Most Enjoyable
Affair.

The annual banquet of the Builders' Exchange was held last evening in the Citizens' bank building, which was attended by about 50 contractors. Members who have not attended a meeting for two years were present at this affair.

Mayor Davidson stated to a News Review reporter this morning that up to the present time he had received 45 applications from persons desirous of becoming members of the police force.

The vacancy on the force which will result from Policeman Willis Davidson's resignation has occasioned the grand rush of applicants for the position.

Stevenson-Douglass.

VAGARIES OF THE TIDES.

Curious Currents in the Ocean and
its Offshoots.

There are as many vagaries in the waters as in the winds. Why, for instance, should three great ocean currents send their warm waters across the wide Pacific, Atlantic and around the Cape of Good Hope? There have been many theories advanced to solve the problem of their origin, but all have proved fallacious. Other and equally mysterious currents exist in well nigh all parts of the world. The tides are so erratic in different parts of the world that one hesitates to accept the theory that the moon controls them in all cases.

It is on record that the sea has run for weeks out of the Java sea through the strait of Sunda and thence back again for a like period without any perceptible rise or fall during those times. Then there is the equatorial current that flows into the Caribbean sea, the ever flowing current to the eastward around Cape Horn, the cold stream flowing from the icy regions of the north past Newfoundland and Nova Scotia and along the American coast to the extreme end of Florida, the continual current running with a velocity of from four to five knots an hour through the strait of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean sea, the swift current running across the rocks and shoals off the end of Billiton island, which apparently starts from nowhere and ends somewhere in the vicinity of the same place, and the current which, starting half way up the China sea, runs from two to three knots an hour to the northeast and finally ends abruptly off the north end of Luzon.

Then we have those tidal vagaries known the world over as bores. Residents on Severn side are familiar with them, and those that run up the Huggill and Irawaddy rivers from side to side in a zigzag shape till they reach their limit, often tearing ships from their anchorage, originate nobody knows where or why. The rush of waters in the bay of Fundy is nothing but a huge bore sweeping all before it up to the head of the bay till the waters have risen to the height of fifty or sixty feet. Off Southampton we have the double tides, while at Singapore it has been observed for days at a time that there has been but the one rise and fall in the twenty-four hours. The tides may be and very often appear as though they were "moonstruck," but they certainly are not controlled with hard and fast rules by that or any other body.—London Shipping World.

Private Gambling in Russia.

There is a good deal of gambling in society in England, but it is nothing to what goes on in Russia, says the London Candid Friend. Vint, preference and roulette are the principal games. The second is the most popular in army circles, while many ladies of the highest rank keep roulette tables and have regular "evenings," on which play goes on for very high stakes. As is usually the case at roulette, the bank mostly wins, and the hostess takes good care to keep the bank.

One of the most notorious of these private dens is run by two ladies of the highest rank and connections. Only the fine fleur of the society of St. Petersburg are admitted, and the entrance is eagerly sought. The stakes are high, the plunging often desperate, and men have been known to leave these salons in a financial condition which approaches ruin. The princesses, however, make a handsome income out of the bank, and no one thinks the worse of them.

It was found that the few districts to hear from would not affect the result of any contest, and R. G. Boyd proposed a motion that the election of all those having no opposition, J. N. Hanley for clerk of courts, Charles A. White, recorder, and M. P. Carnes for commissioner be made unanimous. The motion prevailed.

Hon. R. W. Tayler announced that one matter had been overlooked which it would be well to look after at this time. No provision had been made for the election of delegates to the judicial convention to nominate a candidate for circuit judge. Judge Burrows had no opposition and it would be simply a matter of form, but ought to be attended to.

A committee composed of J. H. Brookes, C. P. Rothwell, L. P. Metzger, N. B. Billingsley and P. M. Smith was appointed to meet at some time before the convention to name delegates.

J. H. French, of Salem, presented a resolution approving of the national and state administrations, and endorsing the candidacy of R. W. Tayler and Secretary of State Laylin for reelection, and pledging the support of the Republicans of the county to the ticket.

The executive committee was empowered to fill all vacancies which may occur upon the county ticket after September 15 of this year. Should it be necessary to name some one before that time it will be done by holding another primary.

The convention then adjourned, and as there were a great many members who would be compelled to leave on the afternoon train the new county committee got down to business at once.

J. S. McNutt was made chairman, C. C. Connell secretary and Geo. E. Davidson treasurer.

A vast amount of time was taken up with the question of a date for the next county primary, and after several votes had been taken the time was fixed for the first Saturday in June. East Liverpool opposed the motion, but was defeated. The southern end of the county would have preferred a date in March.

Just before the adjournment, however, a motion was passed providing for the appointment of a committee whose duty it shall be to revise the present rules, and as the matter of a date for the primaries was a part of these rules, the latter motion rescinds the previous one.

This was the ruling of Chairman McNutt, and according to it there are no rules now in existence to govern the county committee.

HEAVIEST FALL OF SNOW IN THE CITY THIS SEASON

Should Rain Follow, Another Flood In the Ohio Will Be Inevitable.

STREET RAILWAY TROUBLES

Are Unusually Numerous On Account of the Big, Unexpected Snow.

RAILROAD TRAINS BELATED

And Much Inconvenience Is Experienced in Other Lines of Business.
Falling Fast.

The worst snow storm of the winter as well as one of the worst in recent years struck this city this morning shortly after 3 o'clock. By noon the snow was eight inches deep and still falling rapidly. Where it drifted the snow was in several instances from 12 to 20 inches deep.

To say the storm was a surprise is expressing it mildly. Even the weather bureau sent no advice out until late yesterday afternoon.

The ground is dry, caused by the brisk winds of the past few days, and as the snow is also dry it will likely remain on the ground for days. The city is surely in the clutches of the Snow King, and the grip is a firm one. The city has suffered much so far in the way of inconveniences, and this condition may prevail for days to come unless a moderation comes.

The worst inconvenience was occasioned by the street railway companies, which found it impossible to run cars on anything like a schedule. Cars were frequently off the track all through the day. During other snows of the season both railway companies operated their cars during the night, thus being able to keep the tracks clear. As there is not a snow sweeper in the possession of either company, the officials have been compelled to grin and bear it.

Supt. Thomas Reed as soon as a heavy fall of snow was assured put a large force of men at work sweeping the tracks with brooms, but the snow fell so fast this work was practically useless. The line car went to Wellsville during the night, and this morning was unable to return to the barn. It was rigged up as a salt car, but slow progress was made to this city in distributing salt on the rails. The dirt scraper, used to unload dirt from the work car, was brought to the Second street switch shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, and there a heavy working team of horses was attached and the space between the rails was cleaned of snow as much as possible.

One car from East Liverpool was three hours in getting to Wellsville this forenoon. This afternoon the track was fairly well cleared and cars running.

The East Liverpool & Rock Springs Railway company, while unable to operate cars on the usual schedule, fared somewhat better than the East Liverpool railway company. Extra cars were placed on the Chester line clearing the snow from the rails, besides having a large force of men keeping the road open. The snow is being packed solid between the tracks by the motors which press the snow down.

During the day several men were kept at work on the Washington street hill keeping the rails clear, and it was an unusual sight to see cars being coupled together and running double headers.

Both telephone companies have been in luck up to noon, as it was reported that not a single wire was down in this district as a result of the snow. Should the expected sleet storm come considerable damage will no doubt result, as the ice would surely cause many wires to break.

The C. & P. road was unable to operate trains on time, except that the early train from Pittsburgh this morning arrived at this city on time. The train due from the same city at 10 o'clock was over an hour late, and the early accommodation train from Belaire was also over an hour late. Extra engines were sent from the Wellsville shops this morning to keep the road open, these engines operating between Wellsville and Rochester and between Wellsville and Toronto.

The New Cumberland branch of the Panhandle was open all day, trains arriving and departing from Chester on their usual time, except that no freight train was run.

Teamsters experienced much trouble as the snow was so deep that the horses could hardly pull the wagon which contained heavy loads.

The "Nancy Hanks," late this morning, was used as a snow scraper in a novel manner. A large log was attached to the car, upon which a number of men stood and the car used as a snow scraper. This car was at Wellsville, but could not be brought to this city.

Many cars of the company jumped the track this morning, but the company could not reach them with tools to replace them on account of the storm.

Announcement was sent out from Pittsburgh this morning that the present snow storm was expected to be followed by a sleet storm. In this event the snow will melt quickly and may cause another flood in the Ohio river.

A COUNTY OFFICIAL SPENT NIGHT IN JAIL

COUNTY INFIRMARY DIRECTOR TARR WAS ARRESTED.

He Is Accused of Drunkenness And of Beating His Wife—Resignation Wanted.

Lisbon, March 5.—(Special)—Infirmary Director W. A. Tarr was arrested last evening and spent the night in the village lockup. Tarr, who was intoxicated, is alleged to have abused his wife and to have been uncontrollable at home. Officer Costello was summoned and placed him under arrest.

The hearing is set for 2 p. m. today. He was released at 9:30. He immediately went home and in a few minutes two of his neighbors sent in telephone calls, one for Officer Costello and the other for Dr. Marquis. Tarr had again been beating his wife, it is said. There is considerable feeling against him and a growing sentiment among the Republican county executive committee for removing him from the ticket or having him resign.

HOSPITAL FUND

INCREASED $616 BY THE RECENT RUMMAGE SALE.

A Rubber Sale Proposed as the Next Scheme for Raising Money.

The Hospital association met yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Mrs. M. A. Colclough acted as president in the absence of that officer. No officers were elected, from the fact that the books were not ready, but a report from the committee on the rummage sale was given. It was found that the sum of $616 had been cleared. This result was very gratifying.

It was decided to hold another rummage sale, the date of which will be decided upon at the next meeting. It is also the intention of the association to hold a rubber sale soon. Accordingly a committee was appointed to ascertain whether the material from such a sale could be advantageously disposed of.

Should the association decide upon the public sale, East Liverpool will have the distinction of having the first one in this immediate community. They are, however, quite common in other towns.

The report of the committee will be given at the next meeting which occurs two weeks from yesterday at largely attended.

EAST LIVERPOOL MADE NO CONTEST

The Meeting at Lisbon Was Harmonious, Business-Like and Enthusiastic.

DATE FOR THE PRIMARIES

Favoring June—The Committee
Will Fix the Matter.

While there was a disposition on the part of a few members of the county Republican committee to be obstinate, on the whole the meeting at Lisbon yesterday was harmonious.

A majority of the recently elected central committeemen from East Liverpool are new and some difficulty was experienced in keeping them in line. By noon, however, the Liverpool people and their friends concluded to make no contest, and allow matters to take their regular course.

For the first time in more than 15 years slate was not talked nor was one formed the night before the convention. John S. McNutt was the choice of the majority for county chairman, and instead of devoting their time to the formation of a slate, those who reached Lisbon the night before talked over the plans for the future.

It was the original plan of the East Liverpool people to bring the county headquarters to this city, and when the caucus was convened yesterday morning the committeemen from here were determined that W. L. Smith should stand for election to the position. He positively declined and in order to have some recognition Attorney George E. Davidson's name was proposed for secretary. When it was found that the plan was likely to be opposed the idea was abandoned.

The county secretary and several members of the press canvassed the returns in the morning and when the totals were found for the precincts which were already in, it was decided to wait until a few townships not yet reported had been heard from before giving out the figures.

The mass convention met at 1:30 and in order to expedite matters a committee composed of W. L. Smith, Ed A. King and R. N. Chamberlain was appointed to select delegates to the state Republican convention. The

REPEAL OF GARFIELD ACT

Gossip From the Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 5.—The case of the Potters' Co-operative Pottery company (the Dresden), of East Liverpool, against the East Liverpool Railway company, in error to the circuit court of Columbiana county, has been dismissed by the supreme court. The plaintiff in error failed to file a printed record, virtually allowing the suit to go by default, the omission being the cause of it being thrown out. The pottery company brought the case to prevent the street railway from constructing a line in front of its plant, and lost in both the common pleas and circuit courts.

If the senate concurs in the action of the house, the Garfield corrupt practice act will be repealed. The house on Tuesday passed the Deval bill repealing the act by a large vote. Mr. Crist voted for the repeal. The bill of Representative Pollock, of Stark, requiring the use of the union label on all state printing was defeated in the house. Most of the strongest supporters of the measure were absent when the measure came up. Senator Thompson, of Franklin, introduced a bill authorizing the employment of a Catholic chaplain at the penitentiary. Another bill by the same author provides for an income tax of one-fifth of 1 per cent on all incomes over $200. The senate made a law of the bill of Representative Duval, of Jefferson, which provides that county commissioners must care for the graves of soldiers and sailors, where they are located in exclusive burial lots.

Secretary of State L. C. Laylin on Tuesday made two appointments to fill vacancies created by the resignation of Democratic members of the boards of deputy election supervisors. J. H. Aten, of East Liverpool, Democratic member of the Columbiana county board, resigned, and Byron and

The United States Fireproofing corporation, a New Jersey concern with $1,250,000 capital, has qualified to engage in business in this state with headquarters at Lisbon. Its purpose is to mine and sell fire clay and coal and manufacture fireproofing and kindred products. C. K. Robinson is president and Byron Traver secretary.

Both disappeared Monday.

The One Placed on the Calcutta Road
Will Be Removed.

Announcement has been made by officials of the street railway company that no safety switch will be used on the Calcutta branch at the intersection of Grant street and Calcutta road.

This safety switch was placed there several weeks ago, and it has not been in operation since it was installed. No sooner had the workmen left the switch than the company was notified that the switch in its present location was objectionable and the company was asked to have it removed.

When asked about this matter Manager Healy said: "We tried to do the best we knew how on that road, and now that we have gone to the expense of placing a safety switch there, a property owner asks us to remove it."

"Will you take it out," was asked.

"We certainly will," said Mr. Healy.

Mail Carrier John Suter, while pursuing his duties on Second street this morning, was overcome by a spell of heart failure. He fell three times and was taken into a drug store.

Doctor Taylor administered to the stricken man, and he was afterward taken to his home. Doctor Shay was summoned, and after a careful examination gave it as his opinion that Mr. Suter had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. He is slightly better this afternoon.

CHARGES WITHDRAWN

West End Man Accused By Cheater
Woman Wouldn't Pay
Money Demanded.

The sensational case brought by Mrs. Anna Barker against a West End married man, was to be tried this afternoon in Justice McCarron's court.

Mrs. Barker's attorney wanted $50 from the defendant to settle the matter, but his proposition was turned down coldly. The accused man secured a lawyer and demanded a trial.

Miss Barker could produce no testimony against the accused man and the charges were withdrawn.

A Great Success.
The missionary tea held yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. R. Warner, under the auspices of the Missionary societies of the Presbyterian church, was declared a great success. There was a large number of ladies present, all of whom voiced the opinion that the teas should be held regularly. This will probably be decided upon in the near future.

Cashdollar-Brothers.
Mr. J. K. Brothers and Mrs. Josephine Cashdollar were married last night at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. W. Gorrell. Mr. and Mrs. Brothers will make their home on Trentvale street.

OTHER RIGHT OF WAY SOUGHT

To Extend the Road From Toronto to Wellsville, After Which East Liv-
erpool Will Be Reached—Deal Worked Quietly.

From one of the head promoters of the scheme it was learned at Wellsville this morning that the proposed Wabash railroad extension to East Liverpool is positively assured and also that work on the line is to be hastened in every way possible.

It will be remembered that the Wellsville council some time ago granted a franchise to P. M. Smith for the building of a line of railway on Sewer street, extending from the brick plant at the lower end of the city to Little Yellow creek in the upper section. It was generally supposed at the time the franchise was granted that it was the intention of the parties represented by Smith to build a switch to some of the potteries and other plants not reached by railroad.

However, from the information obtained today by the News Review the right of way was secured for the Wabash railroad, which is to be built as soon as the right of way from Toronto to Wellsville can be bought.

Between Steubenville and Toronto nearly all of the necessary property for the extension has already been secured and no trouble is anticipated in the closing of deals for that needed in extending the new line to Wellsville.

The promoter who is now in Wellsville said today it has been the intention of the Wabash company ever since the up-river extension was first projected to build it to East Liverpool. He stated that the matter had been kept quiet for fear that other railroad companies might make an effort to secure rights of way over the same territory the Wabash is to traverse.

His reason for making the scheme known at the present time is because, as he claims, the Wabash had so nearly secured the necessary rights of way that there is now no cause to fear opposition.

P. M. Smith was questioned regarding the scheme, but would give no facts.

Treacherous Italian Attacks His Com-
Seriously.

An Italian whose name sounds something like Givani was stabbed in his shanty on Pennsylvania avenue Monday night by another Italian whose name was not learned. The man who did the cutting used a razor and slashed his victim both on the arm and leg. Dr. Hobbs sewed up the wounds.

The assault was made on Givani while he was in bed. The door to the shanty had become swollen and as it was hard to open the other Italian, who came home late, thought Givanni had locked it and for this reason attacked him.

Several of the injured man's friends have called at the mayor's office, asking to have the man who used the razor arrested, but it has been learned that he has skipped out and is thought to be in Pittsburgh.

Wedded at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 5.—(Special)—Andrew J. Crawford and Miss Emma L. Flood were married last evening by Rev. Mr. Fowler, of the Christian church. Mr. Crawford is a freight conductor on the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western railroad, and his bride is a young lady whose former home was at Kensington. They will reside in Lisbon.

THREE TONS OF ROCK CRASH THROUGH HOUSE

The family of Hardin Woolcott, manager of the Wallover Oil company, near Smiths Ferry, had a narrow escape from being instantly killed yesterday between 12 and 1 o'clock. Mr. Woolcott lives in a small house on the hillside, just above the Presbyterian church. Just as the family was getting up from dinner a large rock, accompanied by much dirt, fell from the hillside of the Woolcott home, broke through the dining room floor and lodged in the cellar.

The family had finished dinner but a few moments before the rock crashed through the side of the house. Portions of the stone crushed many articles on the table.

Excitement reigned supreme in Glasgow soon after the slide occurred, and large crowds surrounded the Woolcott home to view the partially wrecked building. Mr. Woolcott said he estimated the weight of the rock at not less than three tons, and its fall is supposed to be the result of the moderating weather of the past few days. The rock struck the house with considerable force, as it broke from near the top of the hill.

EAST END

BOYS GIVEN WARNING

To Cease a Practice Which Endangers Their Lives And Other People's.

Complaint has been heard in the East End about a crowd of boys who for several days have been playing about the East End station platform of the C. & P. road. These boys have been pulling and pushing the truck used by the Adams Express company about. Fearing that an accident might result Captain Terrance, of the East End fire station, yesterday afternoon advised the boys to stay away from the station.

The boys have been playing about the platform in this manner generally about train time and should this truck be accidentally pushed upon the track a wreck would be the result. It took some hustling to get the company to place a truck in the East End for the accommodation of its agent, but unless it is left alone the company will certainly take it away.

Meetings Continue Successful.

The attendance at the revival service at the Erie street M. E. church last evening was quite large, and several conversions were reported. The services were conducted by Rev. George W. Orcutt and the meetings will continue throughout the week. Rev. C. E. Clark, of Wellsville, will preach tomorrow evening.

A Lawyer in the East End.

The East End now has an attorney, the first to open an office in that part of the city. This is no less a personage than Justice of the Peace James, of Calcutta. Desk room has been secured in the office of W. C. Supplee and Mr. James will make his permanent home in this part of the city.

Big Postal Receipts.

Although February was a short month quite a large business was handled at the East End postoffice for 28 days. In that time the postal receipts amounted to $171.44, while the money order business amounted to $1,385.52. This was the best February business handled at this office for years.

Child's Shoulder Dislocated.

In accidentally catching her 15-months-old child by the left arm a few days ago, Mrs. Charles Heroert dislocated the left shoulder of her baby. A physician was quickly summoned and after chloroforming the child the arm was set.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Miss Cora Kinney, of Niles, is a guest at the home of Miss Mabel Rogers, of St. George street.

Charles Kain is ill at his home on the Dixonville road. He is suffering with pleurisy and has just recovered from an attack of measles.

Miss Gertrude Kain suffered a fainting fit yesterday afternoon at her home. Although somewhat improved this summer she is very ill.

Wilbur Vail, who has been making his home in Kansas for several years, has returned to the East End, where he will reside with his sister, Mrs. Mary Herbert.

George Goddard is very ill at his home on Pennsylvania avenue, and this morning his condition was such that his recovery was considered doubtful. He has consumption.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Bells, carbuncles and all eruptive diseases, yield rapidly to the healing influence of Page's Climax Salve. Always keep a box in the house.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, March 5.—Preparatory services were held Saturday in the Presbyterian church, but because of the illness of Elders Moore and Saint communion services had to be postponed.

Mrs. McCoy, of East Palestine, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. P. Gaston.

Miss Carrie Finney has been secured to teach the spring term of school, Prof. Moore having resigned to take a trip to Kansas.

Harry Warrick, Canfield student, continues too ill to be out or return to school.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moon are now pleasantly situated in their new home on High street.

W. C. Warrick had charge of the funeral of Harvey Moore, of the Bell district, Saturday. Interment at Calcutta. His death came suddenly of pneumonia. He was highly respected, a member of Long's Run Presbyterian church and leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter Alva. The eldest son, a teacher, was ill of pneumonia also and unable to attend his father's funeral.

E. D. Moore, a veteran of the civil war, is quite ill.

Dr. Schall received a call and a fine salary to return to his old home near Dell Roy, to go as a physician to the miners of that district. He soon disposed of his property to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feeble and with his family has moved to Dell Roy. The doctor was very successful in his practice here and made very many friends.

To Repeal Garfield Law.

Columbus, O., March 5.—The House of Representatives yesterday passed the Deval bill to repeal the corrupt practice act in buying votes in elections, known as the Garfield law, by a vote of 59 to 24. There was no effort at party division. It was given as the belief of the friends of the measure that the bill will pass the senate.

Oxford (O.) Postoffice Robbed.

Oxford, O., March 5.—Robbers looted the postoffice here of $1,500 in stamps and $100 in cash Monday night. The safe was forced open and the combination knocked off. Everything of value was taken and the remaining contents scattered over the floor.

DECLARED THEM FORGERIES.

Expert Testified as to Disputed Signatures at Patrick Trial.

New York, March 5.—The evidence of John W. Truesdell, a handwriting expert from Syracuse, was continued yesterday in the trial of Albert T. Patrick.

He testified Monday that the disputed signatures were forgeries of the name of W. M. Rice. Yesterday Robert M. Moore, of Patrick's counsel, showed the witness some conceded signatures, which he said resembled more closely the disputed signatures than those put in evidence by the prosecution, and the witness said it was true that in some of them the "shaded down strokes" and other mannerisms of Mr. Rice's writing were lacking.

PRINCE GOES EAST.

His Train Left Chicago For Niagara Falls, After Midnight, Last Night.

HE IS GOING TO NEW ENGLAND.

Entertained at Milwaukee Last Night,
a Fire Department Run Being a Feature—Placed Wreath on Lincoln Monument, at Chicago.

Chicago, March 5.—The train bearing Prince Henry and the members of his suite arrived at the outskirts at 12:15 o'clock last night. It was on its way to the east by 12:45.

While in this city yesterday the Prince placed a wreath on the Lincoln monument.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 5.—Milwaukee was host to Prince Henry of Prussia for six hours last evening, and gave him a reception that was highly enthusiastic and entertaining that was unique. His special train came at 4 o'clock and at 10 o'clock was away again on the long run to Niagara and New England. The intervening time was all given over to the reception and entertainment of the royal visitor. It began with a drive through the business and residential districts in review before a crowd that numbered 200,000. Then there was a public reception, at which Gov. La Follette and Mayor Rose voiced the official welcomes, and the United Singing Societies raised their voices in mighty chorus. There was also a splendid illumination and a thrilling night run of the Milwaukee fire department. Later there was a banquet, at which the Prince met the leading citizens of the city and state.

The thousands of German residents in Milwaukee joined heartily in the welcome of the young Prince to whose house they once owed allegiance, and veterans of the German war gathered from throughout the state to assist in the reception.

LIKED MISS ALICE'S MESSAGE.

Emperor Not Displeased, as English Papers Stated—Pleased With Prince's Reception.

Berlin, March 5.—Emperor William, instead of being displeased with the telegram of Miss Alice Roosevelt concerning the launching of the Meteor, as some of the English newspapers aver, because of its familiar tone, was on the contrary, very much pleased with it.

A member of the cabinet relates that after an audience with Emperor William, February 26, official business having been finished, he was about to leave when the Kaiser remarked: "I must show you the charming telegram I have just received from Miss Alice Roosevelt."

To other members of his entourage the Emperor has also expressed his pleasure over this telegram and has praised its natural and unconstrained form.

The correspondent here of The Associated Press has been officially informed of Emperor William's satisfaction at the reception accorded to Prince Henry. The informant of the correspondent had seen all Emperor William's marginal notes on the reports of Prince Henry's trip. He said: "His Majesty is in the highest degree pleased with Prince Henry's reception from his arrival in America, and especially with that accorded by President Roosevelt and his family. The Emperor has also expressed himself as delighted with the enthusiasm of the welcome to his brother."

Today's Glorification Of the Brute

IT IS ONE OF THE SUPREME PURPOSES OF HIS-TORY—OF LAW, GOSPEL AND HOLY SPIRIT—
TO ENABLE MEN TO GET OVER BEING BRUTES.
YET THE MOST INTERESTING AND THE MOST VOLUMINOUSLY REPORTED AND GRAPHICALLY
ILLUSTRATED STRUGGLES ARE THE STRUGGLES THAT ARE WAGED BETWEEN MAN AND MAN IN THEIR CAPACITY AS BRUTES SIMPLE AND UN-MITIGATED.

In our colleges and universities there is no event in the entire academic year that so grips upon the interest of the entire institution, from president down to professor of dust and ashes, as THE STRUGGLE ON THE CAMPUS THAT ILLUSTRATES THE STUDENTS' TERRIFIC BRUTALITY. In comparison with it intellectual feats and philosophic, classic or scientific competition are not even a barren circumstance.

Now, we need not despise the body nor maltreat it. So long as we are part brute we want that part to be as good of its kind as it can be, but in this year of grace 1902 it ought to be pretty clear to our minds that muscle is not the point at which, properly speaking, humanity culminates.

The heroism of battle is not to be mentioned the same day with the heroism of suffering.

THE SUPREME HERO OF HISTORY WAS JESUS CHRIST, WHO WAS GREATEST NOT IN WHAT HE COULD ACHIEVE, BUT IN WHAT HE COULD BEAR, AND WHO CONQUERS THE WORLD NOT BY WHAT HE IS ABLE TO DO, BUT BY WHAT HE IS ABLE TO SUFFER.

The tendency in all ages is to imagine that chivalry to a good degree consists in taking the risk of being ourselves knocked down while in the act of trying to knock somebody else down. But that is chivalry that yokes a man with a hyena, not with Abraham or the Son of God.

Heroism may make a man fight magnificently and fearlessly, but the fighting is not an ingredient of the heroism. IN NINE CASES OUT OF TEN IT TAKES MORE HEROISM NOT TO FIGHT THAN IT DOES TO FIGHT.

conductors of freight trains and on interurban cars was passed in the house yesterday. The house also passed the Cannon bill to prohibit the delivery or deposit of samples of proprietary remedies, either for external or internal use, on the premises of any person, or the giving of such samples to any child under the age of 14 years, under penalty.

Another general measure passed provides that persons riding on horseback, on a bicycle, tandem bicycle, locomobile or automobile, upon meeting carriages or other vehicles of any description, shall keep to the right and give two-thirds of the road.

Flood Stationary at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., March 5.—At 8 o'clock last night the river was stationary at 50.7, having risen two and one-half inches since 6 o'clock yesterday morning. No serious damage has been reported thus far.

HONORED M'KINLEY'S MEMORY.

Smith Chief Orator—Bishops
Prayed.

Albany, N. Y., March 5.—The memory of the late President William McKinley was honored by the legislature of the state last evening. The exercises were held in the legislative chambers and were presided over by Governor Odell. Seated on the platform were U. S. Senator Platt and the members of the legislative committee which arranged for the exercises. The chamber was appropriately decorated.

The opening prayer was delivered by the Rt. Rev. William Croswell Doane, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Albany. The choir of All Saints P. E. Cathedral rendered the music: Governor Odell introduced the speaker of the evening, the Hon. Charles Emory Smith, formerly postmaster general, who spoke.

The closing benediction was pronounced by the Rt. Rev. T. M. A. Burke, Roman Catholic Bishop of Albany.

LENT2 CHIEF ORATOR.

Memory of Emmett and South Africa
Subjects of a Meeting.

Chicago, March 5.—The woes of Ireland and the wrongs of the Boers were kindred subjects at a meeting of the Irish Nationalists held in this city last night. The meeting was primarily held to pay tribute to the memory of Robert Emmett, but the South African war occupied almost an equal space with the Irish patriot in the addresses that were made. The chief address of the evening was made by former Congressman John J. Lentz, of Ohio.

Judge Edward F. Dunne, of Chicago, presided and made a stirring address in praise of Robert Emmett. Speeches were also made by other local speakers.

A Man's Success.

Ever think what "success" in life means to a man? That he work like a dog as long as he lives and send his wife abroad and his children away to school. Then when he dies he must leave a competence for his "loved ones," in order that they may continue to live without work. Ever hear of a man's loved ones being criticised for failure to do their duty toward him? But from the time the boy is eight years old to the time the man is tottering with old age he never picks up a book, newspaper or magazine without seeing something with reference to his duty. But did you ever hear of any one owing a duty to man or boy?—Atchison Globe.

And we also know that the quickest eradicator of such cough has been Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and which has been our staunch standby for several years. This is no paid "puff," but merely a just recognition for an invaluable remedy for for coughs, colds, and all lung affections, and like the editor, it has scores of other staunch friends in this town. Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fall to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. MEMBER ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY AFFLICTED WITH CATARRH OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

CURED BY PERUNA.

HON. JOHN J. FURLONG, Member of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, writes of Peruna as follows:

1333 Osgood St., Chicago, Ill.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.
Gentlemen—“I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles.”

“It was of great benefit to me as it cured me of catarrh of the throat and lungs permanently and in a very short time. I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others.”—JOHN J. FURLONG.

Cures Made by Peruna are Permanent Cures.

A patient cured by Peruna is no more liable to catarrh than if he had never had it.

Cured of Catarrh of the Entire System. Mr. William Flood, care Fifth Avenue Hotel, Louisville, Ky., says: “Your Peruna has completely cured me of that distressing disease, catarrh, which affected my head, nose, bronchial tubes, and, in fact, my whole system.”

“I can candidly state that had it not been for Peruna I would have given up my position, being too weak to do my work. For eighteen years life was a burden.”—Mr. William Flood.

Congressman J. A. Barham, of Santa Rosa, California, writes:

“At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peruna, and can cheerfully recommend it as an excellent remedy for all catarrhal troubles. It is indeed a wonderful medicine.”—J. A. Barham.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The proposition to have the county
 primaries in June, when snow and
 flood cannot interfere with campaigning and voting, has something to commend it. On the other hand, the idea
 of prolonging a campaign all through
 the winter and into the summer, is distasteful. Then again, if there are
 to be spring primaries for municipal
 candidates, why not settle the whole business then? A little political excitement is all right in its place, but
 there appears no valid reason for prolonged the ante-primary contests
 through half the year.

Representative Earhart, of Richland
 county, has introduced in the state legislature a bill providing a heavy
 penalty for bank officials who receive
 deposits knowing the bank to be in-
 solvent. Most forms of fraud and
 swindling are now punishable by state
 laws. If this one has been overlooked,
 it their attention.

The Republican county executive
 committee cannot pursue a wiser
 course than to demand and insist
 upon the resignation of County Infirmary Director Tarr from the ticket
 and from office. If they do not the voters will see to it that such a man
 no longer disgraces a responsible office in Columbiana county.

It seems that there is a Cuban-
 American League which is circulating
 petitions for the annexation of Cuba
 under the presidency of a Cuban-
 American named William O. McDow-
 ell. Until the petition comes from Cubans themselves congress will do

Ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas, has
 flatly declined to take off his linen
 duster and cowhide boots and don
 ing King Edward. No international
 complications are likely to result.

General Funston says there is no
 more war in the Philippines than in Kentucky. It is of the same sort in
 both regions, and neither will prosper
 as it should until more wholesome respect for the law is shown.

 islation that will compel railroad companies to equip their cars with cuspidors.
 It is a commendable plan, and is in the interest of the public health.

Cuspidors are not attractive articles
 of furniture, but they are useful so
 long as human hogs continue to find
 their way into first-class cars.

Chicago was disappointed in the prince's visit, after all. He refused
 to look at Chicago's chief object of
 pride, the stock yards.

It is estimated that King Edward's
 coronation will cost $20,000,000. Several good American dollars will help
 to swell the total.

The Wabash Railroad company can-
 not hurry its extension toward this
 people.

By this time Prince Henry probably
 knows what the strenuous life in America means.

You don't hear any man who has to
 wade through it singing about the
 beautiful snow.

The whole world would apparently
 be glad to claim kinship with Uncle
 Sam.

These are certainly days when railroad employees earn their salaries.

The kaiser probably wishes that he
 had come himself.

AT THE THEATER

The wonderfully successful melodrama, "The Span of Life," which has
 been for eight years the greatest
 theatrical success of four continents,
 will be presented this season by the
 strongest company of actors yet engaged in its production, including the
 daring and skillful acrobats, the Donazettas, whose athletic feats are marvelous even to their would-be rivals.
 It will be seen in its entirety at the
 opera house next Saturday evening
 and this will probably be the last
 chance offered for seeing it, as the company are engaged for an Australian tour next season.

"The Wise Guy" engagement at the Grand Thursday night will be a clever
 vaudeville farce. It is heralded as an innovation in farce comedy and
 every line of this season's version
 is supposed to impart a laugh. "A Wise Guy" differs from most of the
 present day so-called farce comedies.
 The management, it is said, submits
 a cast of characters that can hardly
 be improved upon and each is credit-
 ed with individual hits in characters
 of similar nature with "The Wise
 Guy" last season.

Miss Octavia Barbe, one of the cle-
 verest mimics on the stage and the
 acknowledged superior of Vesty Til-
 lie, is the leading lady with the Or-
 pheon Extravaganza company, of Chicago, which will be seen at the Grand tonight. Miss Barbe is happily at home in the Weber-Field style of comedy, having had a year's schooling in
 the best travesty companies of America and England and having that rare
 talent of mimicry so seldom found in
 a woman.

"At Cripple Creek," Hal Reid's latest drama, is full of the vicissitudes
 of life and perils in a western mining
 camp in the early eighties. The magnificent scenery of the Rockies has
 been reproduced with startling realism
 and many novel effects enhance these striking pictures of camp life. A charming love story replete with acts
 of chivalry moves with absorbing
 and thrilling interest through this wild
 life "At Cripple Creek."

"At the Old Cross Roads," which comes to the Grand on Mar. 17, is one
 of the most magnificent productions
 on the road. Special care has been taken in the selection of the cast, and
 it will be the same as the original.
 The ushers only secured the attraction
 after much difficulty and upon a big guarantee. The advance sale is already very large.

"The Two Vagrants" was presented
 to a large house at the Grand last evening. The play was put on in an able manner and was one which appealed especially to the women.

 Sevres China company, left this morning for New Cumberland, where he
 Chelsea.

Ship Subsidy Bill Again Debated.
 Washington, March 4.—The ship
 subsidy bill was further discussed in the senate yesterday by Mr. Frye. His remarks were directed principally to
 the Republican senators, and he gave
 further expression to his views that
 the subsidy bill was a logical response
 obviated to the demands and principals
 of the Republican party, and that in
 its preparation he had obviated the
 objections entertained by Senators
 friendly to the measure. No other senators desiring to speak yesterday,
 the bill was laid aside and a number
 of other bills were passed.

POTTERY NEWS

There have been received in this
 city notices reading as follows:

"A special meeting of the stock-
 holders of the Union Potteries company will be held at the registered
 office of the company, 15 Exchange
 place, Jersey City, N. J., March 11, at 10 o'clock. At this meeting a resolution will be presented to the stockholders ratifying the sale or other disposition of the Chelsea and Union pot-
 teries."

A portion of the resolution reads as
 follows:

"And be it resolved further that the board of directors of the company be
 and are hereby authorized and empowered to make such sale and disposition of the property and assets of
 the company and to enter into, sign,
 seal, execute and deliver such agreements, assignments, conveyances and
 other instruments or assurances as
 may be necessary or proper to con-
 summate and carry into effect such
 sale and disposition."

Jiggermen's local No. 12 met last evening with the largest turnout for
 years. Seven applications were received, five for reinstatement and two
 for initiation. It is expected before
 the convention meets every jiggerman
 in the city will be a member. A resolution was acted upon and will be put
 in shape for the delegates. Also a copy will be sent to the different locals. One transfer card was received
 from East Palestine. The following
 delegates were elected to the convention: George Wilson, Frank Gratten,
 George White, Harry Jenkins, Walter
 McKeone. The alternates are: William Anderson, Mike Lynch, Bert Allison, John Reark, Charles Owen. The
 delegates elected are all old timers,
 all having been delegates to previous
 conventions and will give a good account of themselves.

Local No. 10, turners and handlers
 at a meeting Monday evening elected
 delegates to the Trenton convention
 as follows: Turners, Samuel Burgess,
 Smith-Phillips company; Gustav Wetzel, Taylor, Smith & Taylor;
 handlers, Mr. Martin, Smith-Phillips
 company. Alternates, William Mc-
 Keever, Dresden; Joseph McKinney,
 Laughlin No. 2; Frank Huff, Laughlin
 No. 1. It is said the resolutions that will be presented to the convention
 by these delegates will not be made public until the convention is called
 to order. However, it is announced
 that some important concessions will
 be asked by this branch of the trade
 from the convention.

Quite a sensational move was made
 by those who have been working for
 several weeks attempting to organize
 the handle makers and finishers. It has been decided to disband the organization until after the Trenton convention, or until such time as those
 at the head of the movement are able
 to secure a hall in which a meeting
 can be held on any night except Saturday. There has not been as large attendance at these past meetings as
 has been desired.

In order that all business may be
 officials of kilnmen's local No. 9 have
 issued a call for the meeting to begin
 at 7 o'clock instead of the usual hour.
 This will be the session of sessions,
 as 10 delegates to the Trenton convention will be elected and 10 alternates. Already 28 members have been nominated and the nominations will again be opened Friday evening. Much
 other important business will be considered.

Saggermakers' local No. 16, at a meeting Monday evening, received one
 proposition for membership. The following were elected delegates to the Trenton convention: William Price,
 Diamond; William Conkle, Thomp-
 son's; Fred Booth, Dresden. The al-
 ternates are: William Hines, Taylor,
 Smith & Taylor; Charles Hays, Smith-
 Phillips Co. The resolutions from
 this local have not been prepared,
 this matter to be taken up for discussion next Monday evening.

It was stated in pottery circles this
 afternoon that a meeting of several
 pottery manufacturers would be held
 in the east within a few days for the purpose of considering plans with reference to bringing their business into
 closer relationship. Who these manufacturers were could not be learned,
 but it is announced that details regarding this conference will be made
 known in this city early next week.

All arrangements have been completed for the association foot ball
 game which is to be played at Columbian park Saturday afternoon between clubs representing the Buckeye
 and Laughlin No. 2 decorating departments. Interest in the game is increasing and a large attendance is anticipated.

New Cumberland Boy Terribly Injured By a Cartridge Exploding.

New Cumberland, March 5.—Wesley Brandon, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brandon, met with a serious accident yesterday noon which may result in the loss of both eyes. The lad, in company with a number of other boys, was engaged in play when he found a cartridge.

Cutting the bullet out with a knife, young Brandon held it in his hand while another boy touched a match to the brass shell. An explosion followed and the powder flashed up into the lad's face. The physicians fear that the eyesight is destroyed.

Building Must Be Raised.

The recent soft weather has had a serious effect on the foundation under the residence of Howard Rogers, on Carolina avenue. When the house was built last fall the tile used for the cellar walls was too light, and the heavy weight, together with the soft weather, has caused them to crumble. The structure will now have to be raised and practically a new wall built.

Free Lecture By Dr. Holtz.

Rev. Dr. Earl D. Holtz, of Wheeling, formerly of Wellsville, will lecture at the Chester M. E. church tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. on "The Measure of a Man." Admission is free, and the public is invited. A silver offering will be taken up. The lecturer is a popular and able speaker.

Legal Circles Quiet.

Matters in Chester legal circles are very quiet today. Squire Johnston failed to put in an appearance at his office this morning and is probably snowbound at his home in the country. The storm was evidently too much for Attorney Ingram, who also failed to appear.

Will Make Improvements.

The American Sewer Pipe company has decided to add $15,000 worth of improvements to the Black Horse works, near New Cumberland. Eight addition tunnel dryers will be put in, and a new clay crusher and four more presses.

CHESTER NOTES.

B. I. Hill is confined to the house, threatened with typhoid pneumonia. Charles Grafton has moved his family from East Liverpool to Lawrenceville. James Hayes, of Lawrenceville, is confined to the house with a threatened attack of typhoid fever.

London, March 5.—It is announced in a special dispatch from Madrid that a number of the strikers arrested for participation in the recent riots at Barcelona were shot at Fort Montjuich yesterday morning.

A brother of General Moore, the Carlist leader, has been arrested for complicity in the Barcelona riots and will be tried by court martial.

Papers seized at the houses of Anarchists in Barcelona indicate that a widespread plot existed.

Strikes were declared yesterday at Cadiz and Ferrol, Spain.

FEARED HER HUSBAND

AND MRS. ELMER SMITH WANTED HIM ARRESTED.

Officer Acted as Mediator and the Couple Was Restored to Happiness.

Mrs. Elmer Smith called on Mayor Dennis last evening and filed a charge against her husband, asking that he be put under bond to keep the peace. She stated that she was afraid to go home, as she knew her husband was lying in wait for her, and that she was afraid he would do her bodily injury.

An officer went in company with the woman, and on reaching the electric light plant, found Smith hiding behind the building. He made no effort to do anything rash, and after some persuasion on the part of the officer he took his wife in his embrace, and after hugging her a few times, started home with her in a joyous mood.

It is said Mrs. Smith used a club on her husband a few days ago and gave him a severe beating.

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

To Take Final Action Regarding the Paving of Water Street.

A meeting of the city council will be held this evening to consider the proposition for the paving of Water street from Third to Ninth. At the last meeting a communication from the property owners on the lower part of the street was read, protesting against doing the work, and tonight the matter will be settled.

Nearly all of the property holders between Third and Fourth streets are in favor of paving, but those on the lower portions object for the reason that the lawns and shade trees which form a kind of a boulevard will be ruined.

PROPERTY OWNERS MAD

Those Whose Cellars Were Flooded From Sewers Are Going After Council.

Owing to the recent flood 50 houses in the back end of the city were damaged. Back water coming through the sewers from both the upper and lower parts of the town caused the cellars to be flooded, and those living in the houses are finding fault because shut-off valves were not placed in the sewers when put down.

ACTION IN REPLEVIN

In Squire Riley's Court Over a Dispute Arising From a Restaurant Sale.

An action in replevin, in which Park Leach was plaintiff and Mrs. Charles Strowe defendant, was heard in Squire Riley's court today.

Leach purchased the restaurant from Mrs. Strowe in the St. Clair building about a month ago, but did not take possession until last week. He claims that a great many of the utensils used in the restaurant had been removed after the purchase had been made and before he had taken possession.

G. W. Adams represented the plaintiff and Charles R. McGregor the defendant. A decision will be rendered Thursday.

NO VOTE REACHED.

House Again Discussed Rural Free Delivery Yesterday.

Washington, March 5.—The House spent another day yesterday in discussion of the bill to classify the rural free delivery service and place the carriers under the contract system. No vote was reached and it is doubtful whether one will be had to-day, as the list of speakers is still large. The fate of the bill is in doubt, although the impression prevailing is that it will be defeated.

The speakers yesterday were Messrs. Smith (Dem., Ky.), Gardner (N. J.), Williams (Miss.), in favor, and Messrs. Landis (Ind.), Maddox (Ga.), and Hill (Conn.), against the measure. Before debate began the conference report on the Philippine tariff bill was adopted. The vote was on party lines except that Messrs. McCall (Mass.), Littlefield (Me.), and Heatwole (Minn.) voted with the Democrats against adopting the report.

SLAVERY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Men, Women and Children Are Held for Debt in the Moro Islands.

Washington, March 5.—The extent of the slavery in the Philippines was discussed by Gov. Taft before the house insular committee yesterday in response to questions by members. He said in part that slavery was confined to the southern Moro islands. The investigation made by Gov. Taft and his associates had brought out that the slaves included men, women and children, who were slaves for debt, according to the statements made by the dates. The slaves could buy their liberty, but until this was done the condition ran from generation to generation. The slaves were members of the family and the relation was comparatively mild, if it was possible to consider any form of slavery mild. Gov. Taft said Dato Mandi had already abolished slavery by decree. How effective this was could not be stated. "It indicates," said Gov. Taft, "how willing they are to consider our desires and the possibilities of eradicating the system."

The civil authorities had never recognized slavery in any way, he said, and the military had always released slaves. But the slaves did not understand the advantage of liberty and Gov. Taft said that if we attempted to end slavery by force, we would probably find the slaves turning their guns against us. The influence of the United States was, however, growing stronger and stronger for the eradication of slavery, although our wishes had been made known, yet neither the civil nor military authorities had said slavery must cease or war would be made.

QUITS HIS POSITION

Roberts Resigns From Executive Committee of U. S. Steel Combine.

Also the Other Officers of the Corporation, Whose Terms Expired—Agreement of Tin Plate Scale May Be Reached To-day.

New York, March 4.—The directors of the United States Steel Corporation met yesterday and re-elected President Schwab and all the other officers whose terms expire. Otherwise only routine business was transacted.

Percival Roberts, Jr., resigned his membership in the executive committee. His resignation was accepted, but a successor was not named. He did not resign from the board of directors.

Mr. Roberts was president of the American Bridge company when it was merged into the U. S. Steel corporation. He represented a total capitalization of $80,000,000. The Herald to-morrow will print an interview with Mr. Roberts in which he is quoted as saying:

"I have not agreed with Mr. Schwab for some time regarding certain features of the policy which Mr. Schwab supports."

TIN PLATE WAGE SCALE.

Probably Will Be Settled in New York To-day.

New York, March 5.—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and a delegation representing the executive committee of that organization were in conference yesterday with the officials of the American Tin Plate company, regarding the scale of wages for the current year. Mr. Shaffer's party includes William O'Brien and W. J. Williams, of Ellwood, Ind.; John Quinn of Granite City; G. K. Price, John Williams, Charles Typpea and C. J. Frazee.

When the conference adjourned till to-day the labor men were in good spirits, but declined to say what had transpired in their talk with the tin plate officials.

A representative of the company said, however, that the meeting had been thoroughly harmonious throughout, and that such differences as remained would probably be amicably settled at to-day's meeting.

ETRURIA IN TOW.

Lost Her Propeller and Steering Gear. All Were Reported Well.

New York, March 5.—The Evening World yesterday printed a dispatch from one of its reporters who is a passenger on the Etruria. The dispatch, which was taken from the Etruria to the Azores by the oil tank steamer Ottawa, which spoke the Etruria on Friday, is as follows:

"The Etruria lost her propeller and steering gear in mid-Atlantic on the evening of February 26. Drifted helplessly in a heavy sea all night, making continuous signals. Too much cannot be said for the bravery and coolness of Captain Stephens, whose example filled the passengers and crew with courage."

"They are trying to tow the Etruria to the Azores. As I write we are now in tow of the steamer William Cliff, but are making no headway. Wind and sea against us and Cliff not strong enough to do more than hold us steady."

"All are well on board, and after the first excitement everything has been quiet. They are trying to lash spars to make a rudder. Captain of oil tank steamer Ottawa, from Philadelphia, has promised to file this at first port touched. Captain Stephens wishes to assure all that there is no danger."

A GENTLEMAN—WHAT IS HE?

HONESTY IS PERHAPS THE FIRST QUALIFICATION OF A GENTLEMAN—NOT ALONE HONESTY IN BUSINESS DEALINGS, BUT IN ALL SOCIAL AND ETHICAL RELATIONS.

The man who is supposed to hold his wife and family first in his heart and consideration, but who is at the same time professing the same attachment and bestowing the same care upon some other woman, is most certainly not a gentleman. He may have more millions than any other man on earth, he may have more intellectual power than the most intellectual man who ever lived, in manners and exterior polish he may serve as a model for imitators; still he is not honest. To him the word "gentleman" cannot be applied.

Honorable, upright, pure, true, charitable and generous are some other adjectives which may be used in describing a man who is a gentleman.

KINDNESS, INBORN AND INBRED, SHOULD BE ALWAYS IN THE HEART OF A GENTLEMAN. THE MAN WHOSE POLITENESS DOES NOT SPRING FROM KINDNESS IS NOT A GENTLEMAN.

All the other traits are children of this one great quality. The man who is absolutely kind is not likely to be dishonest, uncharitable or ungenerous. He is not an idler while others labor nor a gentleman who is so only through artificial polish.

Idleness does not constitute gentility. That is where the modern and usually accepted definition of the word "gentleman" is entirely wrong. I think idleness is conducive to very bad habits.

The newspapers are responsible for much of the modern mistaken idea of what constitutes a gentleman. Too much of their influence has been directed toward giving undue prominence to persons whose wealth alone entitles them to consideration in the great whirl and dash of twentieth century life.

Fred E. Borton, secretary, and C. W. Wason, purchasing agent. The resignations of Mr. Everett and Mr. Wason from the directorate were also tendered.

Mr. Everett said yesterday: "The syndicate headed by Mr. Andrews will take the syndicate stock in the Big Consolidated next Saturday."

The Big Consolidated controls and operates fully two-thirds of the electric traction lines in this city.

THE GOLDEN RULE.

The Golden Rule is worldwide and is variously voiced as follows:

Do as you would be done by.—Persian.

Do not that to a neighbor which you would take ill from him.—Grecian.

What you would not wish done to yourself do not unto others.—Chinese.

One should seek for others the happiness one desires for oneself.—Buddhist.

He sought for others the good he desired for himself. Let him pass on.—Egyptian.

All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them.—Christian.

Let none of you treat his brother in a way he himself would dislike to be treated.—Mohammedan.

The true rule in business is to guard and do by the things of others as they do by their own.—Hindoo.

The law imprinted on the hearts of all men is to love the members of society as themselves.—Roman.

Whatsoever you do not wish your neighbor to do to you do not unto him. This is the whole law. The rest is a mere exposition of it.—Jewish.

CHURCHMEN.

Dean Slattery of Wisconsin is trying to raise funds to complete a cathedral tower to the memory of the late Bishop Whipple.

Bishop Francis M. Whittle of the Episcopal diocese of Virginia has transferred the ecclesiastical authority and all the care of the diocese to his coadjutor after a service of twenty-six years.

Sweetheart Cakes of a Dutch Damsel—Egyptian Bridegrooms Must Work For Their Supper—Wine in China—Married by Candy.

The important part which different viands play in marriage ceremonies makes rather an interesting story.

For example, the Swedish bride fills her pocket with bread, which she dispenses to every one she meets on her way to church, every piece she gives away averting, as she believes, a misfortune.

On the threshold of her new home a bride in Serbia is presented with a plate of bonbons, one of which she and the bridegroom share between them, the divided bonbon signifying that no bitterness shall divide them. A sieve of wheat corn is also given to the bride. Of this she takes three handfuls, throws it over her head, emptying the sieve upon the ground. The scattered corn denotes that the bride brings joy and prosperity into her new home. The bride is still outside the door, nor can she enter until she has placed two loaves of bread beneath her arms and taken a bottle of wine into her hands. With these emblems she at length crosses the threshold of her future home. At the first meal of the newly married pair bread and wine must be taken by both to denote that thenceforward all they have shall be equally divided between them and that their married life shall be passed in unity and fidelity.

A Russian wooing culminates in the betrothal feast, at which the bride elect in return for a long tress of hair which she has given to the bridegroom receives bread and salt and an almond cake.

In Holland if a young man is in love with a girl and wishes to ask her hand in marriage he buys a small sweet cake and, wrapping it up in soft paper, proceeds to the house of his inamorata. He is ushered into the midst of the family circle. Without a word he walks up to the young lady and lays the cake on the table before her. The rest of the family affect not to notice anything unusual and continue their work or their reading. The young man turns aside and talks to the father or mother on some very ordinary subject, keeping his eyes eagerly fixed on the girl while he is conversing. If she accepts his offer, she takes up the cake and eats it. If she is a coquettish damsel, she tortures the young man by turning it over and playing with it before she decides to taste it and then enraptures him by eating it to the last crumb. If, on the other hand, she wishes to have nothing more to do with her admirer, she puts it back on the table. The young man takes up the cake and, with a "Vaarvoal byzamen," leaves the house. The matter is then kept a profound secret by both families, and the outer world never hears of it. In place of a wedding cake in Holland wedding candles are given—"bruid zuikers" they are called. They are passed around by children and are served in flower trimmed baskets.

Bride pudding is the name of the piece de resistance served at a Norse peasant wedding. This is not brought on the table until the last day of the festivities, three or five days being given up to feasting and merrymaking. The appearance of the bride pudding is the signal of dismissal, and at the close of the feast the guests say farewell, presenting at the same time their gifts, which consist of cash. This the bride receives, the bridegroom presenting each donor with a glass of wine.

Partaking of two tiny glasses of wine is all the ceremony necessary to make a marriage in some Chinese provinces, provided a quantity of fireworks are set off. These are to wake the "great joss" from his sleep that he may witness the ceremony.

At a Hebrew wedding man and wife sip from one cup of wine, symbolizing participation in the joys and pain of earthly life. The emptied goblet is placed on the floor and crushed into a thousand pieces by the bridegroom, who thus shows that he will put his foot on all evils that may enter the family circle.

At an Egyptian wedding feast meat is not eaten because of the belief that it would lead to future bickerings between them. Eggs, fruits and sweets are served. The first meal in the new house cannot be touched until, after every device known to the bridegroom, the bride has been at last induced to speak. Once she utters a word, he claps his hands, and supper is brought to them.

Married by candy is the plan in Burma. Of all marriage rites this takes the palm for conciseness and sweet simplicity. Here the dusky lady takes the initiative. Seeing a youth who pleases her, she offers him a sweet. If he accepts her proposal, he promptly eats the token of affection, and they are thereby made man and wife. In the act of eating alone this most primitive rite consists. If the youth be not favorably disposed, he remarks with all gallantry that that particular candy is not to his taste, and the matter is ended. In Mandalay three weeks after a marriage kinsmen bring the bridegroom a bowl of rice, a vessel of wine and a fowl, much of which collation is sacrificed to the spirits of ancestors.

A Bagoda bride—in the Philippines—if she be good looking and the daughter of a warrior, is sold by her father for about $30, which sum is not given in money, but in vegetables and chickens. One way of estimating such things is at the price of a brass gong. Such a gong is worth thirty silver dollars, and it is a valuable maiden indeed who will bring two brass gongs.—What to Eat.

The Finger Posts Marking the Many By-Paths of Present Day Troubles All Seem to Point the Same Way. Lack of Nerve Force.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world is able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done more for me to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkin's drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

They Wanted a Rest.

A Scottish congregation presented their minister with a sum of money and sent him off to the continent for a holiday.

A gentleman just come from the continent met a prominent member of the church and said to him:

"Oh, by the bye, I met your minister in Germany. He was looking very well—he didn't look as if he needed a rest."

"No," said the church member very calmly; "it was na' him; it was the congregation that was needin' a rest."—Pearson's Weekly.

LL.D.

The National Period of American Literature

Professor of American Literature at Brown University.

Letters among other effects of the shock. If the name of the Knickerbocker school be too large for the little group of authors who followed Diederich, the historian, afar, it may be said that the term was applied to less dignified objects in the day of its immense popularity and to more worthy ones since.

The New York Evening Post had been established in the first year of the century with a hospitable policy toward letters, as well as a critical spirit which enhanced the honor of appearing in its columns. To gain admittance to them was next to having a book published. On the street and in coffee houses were knots of young men with corresponding ambitions notwithstanding the commercial bias of the city and the material bent of the age. Foremost among them was a banker's clerk who was not so far lost in arithmetical figures that he could not appreciate poetical and even wished that he might "loungue upon a rainbow and read Tom Campbell," a sentiment with which a bystander agreed. In this way Fitz-Greene Halleck and Joseph Rodman Drake became acquainted in the spring of 1819, the beginning of a literary companionship as intimate as it was brief, for Drake died the next year.

Judged by what he had begun to do, this young poet was cut down at the opening of a promising career. His early essays found their subjects for satire in the topics of the town, but descriptive and patriotic pieces soon followed, the address to the American flag deserving a higher place than all that have succeeded it. A more remarkable feat was the production in two or three days of "The Culprit Fay" in refutation of an assertion that it would be difficult to write a fairy poem purely imaginative without the aid of human characters. He accomplished this work with no nearer approach to humanity than in these two lines:

For an Ouphe has broken his vestal vow;
He has loved an earthly maid.

The rest is the fanciful account of the consequences of such a high misdemeanor, full of delicate art and the traceries of an imagination at home with the hidden things of nature, itself idealized and peopled with intelligences of the poet's own creating. It is the midsummer night's dream of an airy fancy.

The entire poem should be the delight of children who dwell on the border land of the seen and the unseen.

Halleck survived to write an elegy upon his friend, which shows how far the art had progressed since the days of Mather; also to continue the strain of American verse which the two friends had joined in contributing to the columns of The Evening Post. Afterward he was stirred by the wrongs of suffering Greece to lift up the voice of freedom in "Marco Bozzaris." Whoever has lost a friend of his youth will associate with the recollection of his sorrow the lament of Halleck for his companion, beginning:

Green be the turf above thee,
Friend of my better days;
None knew thee but to love thee
Nor named thee but to praise.

Clement C. Moore has a place among the writers who were inspired by Dutch traditions to produce a Knickerbocker literature. No doubt the theological professor expected to rest his fame upon the first Hebrew and English lexicon compiled in this country or upon his version of Lavardin's "History of George Castriot." Instead, when he is placed among the immortals it will be in recognition of his "Visit From St. Nicholas," which all children know begins:

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

Gullian C. Verplanck was a New Yorker whose services to literature entitle him to mention. First a lawyer, then a politician and afterward a lecturer in divinity, his pen was seldom idle. "Essays on Revealed Religion" and the "Doctrine of Contrasts" were the more substantial results, while "The State Triumvirate" and "The Ceremony of Installation" are in a lighter vein. As a member of congress he was prominent in obtaining the extension of the term of copyright from 28 to 42 years. Later he was associated with Sands and Bryant in The Tallyman, a publication containing some of the best writing of the time. In his addresses on art, history and literature and "The Influence and Use of Liberal Studies," and especially on "The American Scholar," he anticipated some of the more recent essayists and orators who have made kindred themes the subjects of high discussion.

William Cullen Bryant may be considered as an adopted member of the Knickerbocker group since he was not born in New York, but on the Hampshire hills of western Massachusetts. However, he was not long in finding his way to the metropolis and to the little circle which made it the literary center of the country at the time. A copy of Irving's "Knickerbocker" had traveled into the lonely village where young Bryant was reading law and gave him a taste of what was possible in lower latitudes. Hitherto his reading had been among the professional books of his father's medical library, varied by the Latin poets, the Greek Testament, Watts' hymns, Pope's "Iliad" and an unusual number of English classics for that period. But meter and rhyme were a part of his nature and blossomed out in juvenile verses, religious and political, to the delight of his father and to his own subsequent chagrin.

To these there were two notable exceptions, left at home when he went away to practice law in Great Barrington. His father found them one day six years afterward when rummaging in a drawer, read them himself and to a neighbor and without asking his son's permission started posthaste for Boston and the editor of The North American Review, then a two-year-old magazine.

If this overland journey of 100 miles was a remarkable instance of paternal pride, there was something to warrant it, for one of the poems was, "Thanatopsis" and the other "An Inscription Upon the Entrance to a Wood." The first of these was enough to establish the youth as a poet of no common order. It came to a reflective people in an age when the shadow of gloom had not entirely passed, having a sad note that appeals to every reader in sober days and raising visions of the sublimity, majesty and vastness of the universe which bring a pleasing awe to the soul of man in the presence of infinity and futurity. It is a poem of the intellect rather than the heart, grand, austere, solemn, a funeral anthem of the human race.

The golden sun,
The planets, all the infinite host of heaven,
Are shining on the sad abodes of death
Through the still lapse of ages.

But he wrote other poems that readers like better than this requiem of the universe, and in them all is the note of nature, struck by a sympathetic observer not of her gracious moods alone, but of the severe and fateful as well. Out of them all, however, he drew lessons of truth or beauty or morals. He finds the law of guidance in the flight of the lone waterfowl across the December sky and of hope in the fringed gentian blossoming on the border of water. "The Forest Hymn," "The Death of the Flowers," "The Song of the Lover" and others longer or shorter are charged with the bloom of summer and frosts of winter and tinted with the hues of spring and autumn. He inclines to the last season with the sober inheritance from a Puritan ancestry and writes:

The melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year,
Of wailing winds and naked woods and meadows brown and sere.

Yet into "The Little People of the Snow" he has put a sympathetic strain, such as is not always found with eulogists of winter and never with shivering grumblers about it. But then he survived the rigors of 20 Cunningham winters before he went to New York and the sultriness of as many summers and thereupon could also write:

The quiet August noon has come,
A slumberous silence fills the sky;
The fields are still; the woods are dumb;
In glassy sleep the waters lie.

Open the volume of 116 poems anywhere and some phase of nature is presented, usually in her quiet majesty. Sometimes patriotic and national strains appear, as in "The Song of Marion's Men," "The Green Mountain Boys," "Our Country's Call" and "O Mother of a Mighty Race," but the return is speedy to "The White-Footed Deer," "The Hunter of the Prairies" and "The Death of the Flowers." He is pre-eminently the poet of the woods and waters, of earth and sky, of summer and winter, of the times and seasons, the days and the years.

Bryant's verse will always have its own charm for New Englanders and

VI.—The Knickerbocker Group.

NO writer of Irving's genius could spring up in a barren age without inspiring such mediocre talent as might be inclined to lethargy. The mere stirring of fallow ground will send up unsuspected growths, and the awakening which the keen humorist gave the drowsy men of Manhattan started a crop of

for their descendants, wherever they may live. They love the moods of nature with which the fathers played and fought by turns. The Viking blood in their veins still makes them sing:

The winds from off the Norseman's hills
Do shriek a fearsome song;
There's music in the shrieking winds
That blow my bark along.

Besides, there is in his poems the flower of that imagination which, in spite of his pretended indifference, was in the Puritan's soul. It finally blossomed out early in this century like a crocus on the sunny edge of a snow-drift in northwestern Massachusetts. It revealed in the solemn, the sublime, the severe, as the forefathers had for 200 years. Moreover, the first great poet had all their conscientiousness in his performance of his task, even if he did break with their Calvinism. His measure is exact, his rhyme is perfect, and, more than all, his moral tone is without a flaw. There are in it both strength and health.

NEW YORK CASH RESERVE.

May Be Wiped Out This Week—
Probably $5,000,000 in Gold
Will Be Exported.

New York, March 5.—The day's stock market for the greater part of the day represented the retracing of Monday's upward course in the regular process of taking profits on a small turn, which is a characteristic of a narrow professional market. Late in the day, however, the selling movement gained appreciable force and carried prices downward by rapid stages to the lowest of the day, making the closing active and weak. The market also broadened out considerably in the late selling movement and the dealings were much better distributed than at any other time during the day. The standard stocks were as greatly affected as some of the minor specialties which have lately been so conspicuous in the market.

The growing dimensions of the requirements upon New York cash reserves seemed to be the cause of the rather acute uneasiness manifested. The engagement of gold for export announced yesterday for Thursday's and Saturday's steamers and estimates of others likely to be made indicate the probability of an outgo of $5,000,000 or over this week to foreign shores. The underwriting syndicate of the San Francisco traction organization called upon its subscribers yesterday for a 20 per cent payment on Thursday. This means the remittance to San Francisco at that time of about $4,000,000. It is true that this operation will mean no encroachment upon the country's available money supply, as the treasury authorities will pay out in San Francisco immediately the amount deposited in the sub-treasury in New York, but the operation involves a depletion of New York bank reserves nevertheless.

The sub-treasury had already taken from the New York money market since Friday on routine operations $3,111,000. With the surplus reserves of the banks last week below $10,000,000, these figures indicate sufficient requirements to wipe out the surplus entirely. Under the average systems of computation it is also expected that part of last week's decrease in cash reserves will be felt in this week's bank statement. The confidence which has been felt in the continued ease of the money market in face of these developing factors was partly based upon the belief in government bond circles that government bonds would be offered to the treasury department for redemption in case of any real need in the money market. As a matter of fact, bonds to the par value of a million dollars were offered to the sub-treasury late yesterday, for which $1,122,461 was paid in cash, but this did not seem to relieve the apprehension of a possible money squeeze. It was noticeable also that the sterling exchange market was affected by the offering of bills against the gold exchanged for export, so that rate yielded a fraction, which was not the case when gold was engaged last week.

UNITED BRETHREN CONFERENCE

Consolidated Maryland and Pennsylvania Bodies Meet at York, Pa.

York, Pa., March 5.—The 113th annual session of the Pennsylvania conference of the United Brethren church began last night. Bishop J. S. Miller, of Annapolis, presided. This is the first session of the Consolidated Maryland and Pennsylvania conference.

Presiding Elders J. L. Grimm and Rev. A. R. Ayres have each served four years, but there is considerable talk of new elders being elected at this conference. Prominently mentioned as their probable successors are Rev. H. B. Spayd and Rev. C. T. Stearn, D. D., of New York; Rev. J. R. Hutchinson, Waynesboro, and Rev. W. H. Washington, of Chambersburg.

VICTORY FOR DELARNEY.

Laid His Plans Well for Klerksdorp Fight—British Badly Defeated.

London, March 5.—Telegrams received here from Klerksdorp describing the attack and capture by the Boers, Feb. 24, at a point southwest of Klerksdorp, of 467 British soldiers who were acting as convoy to an empty wagon train, show that Gen. Delarney laid his plans with consummate care and precise knowledge of the ground.

For two hours the British held out. They then divided and were overwhelmed. A few minutes of incautious fighting and all was over.

American League Magnates to Meet.

Detroit, March 5.—This morning at 11 o'clock President Johnson will call the American League magnates to order for the first session of the spring meeting, at which the playing schedule for the season and playing rules will be adopted. It may be necessary to postpone the first session until afternoon, if the Eastern contingent is delayed by the floods. President Johnson, with several of the Western owners, was expected last night, to arrive this morning.

Beat Down a Sergeant Who Bayoneted
Her Husband—Discolored the Face of a Lieutenant—City May Be Placed Under Martial Law.

Norfolk, Va., March 5.—A mob of 500 strike sympathizers thronged the streets of Norfolk yesterday, on which the main line of the Norfolk Railway and Light company's cars were run, and the police were unable to cope with it from noon until after dark, when the cars, which were guarded by detachments of military and had run with difficulty all day, were housed in the barns.

In the county where the barns are, the military was in control of the situation. Cars were repeatedly derailed, wagon loads of stones were piled on the tracks, and free fights between the military guards and the crowd occurred during the day at frequent intervals.

Woman Handy With Her Fists.

In one instance a sergeant ran a bayonet into the thigh of H. H. Harman, a barber. Mrs. Harman, who was standing by her husband at the time, knocked the sergeant to the ground with both fists and discolored the face of Lieut. E. R. Gale, who was near her. Several soldiers were struck by missiles thrown through the windows of the cars. A number of arrests were made by both the police and military.

Last night it was determined that martial law will be declared in Norfolk this morning. Four more infantry companies from Emporia, Suffolk, Smithfield and Franklin, making the entire Seventy-first regiment, have been ordered out.

BUILDERS' BANQUET

Annual Meeting of the Exchange Last Evening—A Most Enjoyable
Affair.

The annual banquet of the Builders' Exchange was held last evening in the Citizens' bank building, which was attended by about 50 contractors. Members who have not attended a meeting for two years were present at this affair.

Several informal addresses were made. George Phillips acted as toastmaster of the evening, while selections upon the violin and guitar were rendered by J. M. Beatty and Les Nease. The affair was a most enjoyable one.

VAGARIES OF THE TIDES.

its Offshoots.

There are as many vagaries in the waters as in the winds. Why, for instance, should three great ocean currents send their warm waters across the wide Pacific, Atlantic and around the Cape of Good Hope? There have been many theories advanced to solve the problem of their origin, but all have proved fallacious. Other and equally mysterious currents exist in well nigh all parts of the world. The tides are so erratic in different parts of the world that one hesitates to accept the theory that the moon controls them in all cases.

It is on record that the sea has run for weeks out of the Java sea through the strait of Sunda and thence back again for a like period without any perceptible rise or fall during those times. Then there is the equatorial current that flows into the Caribbean sea, the ever flowing current to the eastward around Cape Horn, the cold stream flowing from the icy regions of the north past Newfoundland and Nova Scotia and along the American coast to the extreme end of Florida, the continual current running with a velocity of from four to five knots an hour through the strait of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean sea, the swift current running across the rocks and shoals off the end of Billiton island, which apparently starts from nowhere and ends somewhere in the vicinity of the same place, and the current which, starting half way up the China sea, runs from two to three knots an hour to the northeast and finally ends abruptly off the north end of Luzon.

Then we have those tidal vagaries known the world over as bores. Residents on Severn side are familiar with them, and those that run up the Hugg and Irawaddy rivers from side to side in a zigzag shape till they reach their limit, often tearing ships from their anchorage, originate nobody knows where or why. The rush of waters in the bay of Fundy is nothing but a huge bore sweeping all before it up to the head of the bay till the waters have risen to the height of fifty or sixty feet. Off Southampton we have the double tides, while at Singapore it has been observed for days at a time that there has been but the one rise and fall in the twenty-four hours. The tides may be and very often appear as though they were "moonstruck," but they certainly are not controlled with hard and fast rules by that or any other body.—London Shipping World.

Private Gambling in Russia.

There is a good deal of gambling in society in England, but it is nothing to what goes on in Russia, says the London Candid Friend. Vint, preference and roulette are the principal games. The second is the most popular in army circles, while many ladies of the highest rank keep roulette tables and have regular "evenings," on which play goes on for very high stakes. As is usually the case at roulette, the bank mostly wins, and the hostess takes good care to keep the bank.

One of the most notorious of these private dens is run by two ladies of the highest rank and connections. Only the fine fleur of the society of St. Petersburg are admitted, and the entrance is eagerly sought. The stakes are high, the plunging often desperate, and men have been known to leave these salons in a financial condition which approaches ruin. The princesses, however, make a handsome income out of the bank, and no one thinks the worse of them.

MEETING AT LISBON

committee reported back within a few minutes, and their selections were approved.

It was found that the few districts to hear from would not affect the result of any contest, and R. G. Boyd proposed a motion that the election of all those having no opposition, J. N. Hanley for clerk of courts, Charles A. White, recorder, and M. P. Carnes for commissioner be made unanimous. The motion prevailed.

Hon. R. W. Tayler announced that one matter had been overlooked which it would be well to look after at this time. No provision had been made for the election of delegates to the judicial convention to nominate a candidate for circuit judge. Judge Burrows had no opposition and it would be simply a matter of form, but ought to be attended to.

A committee composed of J. H. Brookes, C. P. Rothwell, L. P. Metzger, N. B. Billingsley and P. M. Smith was appointed to meet at some time before the convention to name delegates.

J. H. French, of Salem, presented a resolution approving of the national and state administrations, and endorsing the candidacy of R. W. Tayler and Secretary of State Laylin for reelection, and pledging the support of the Republicans of the county to the ticket.

The executive committee was empowered to fill all vacancies which may occur upon the county ticket after September 15 of this year. Should it be necessary to name some one before that time it will be done by holding another primary.

The convention then adjourned, and as there were a great many members who would be compelled to leave on the afternoon train the new county committee got down to business at once.

J. S. McNutt was made chairman, C. C. Connell secretary and Geo. E. Davidson treasurer.

A vast amount of time was taken up with the question of a date for the next county primary, and after several votes had been taken the time was fixed for the first Saturday in June. East Liverpool opposed the motion, but was defeated. The southern end of the county would have preferred a date in March.

Just before the adjournment, however, a motion was passed providing for the appointment of a committee whose duty it shall be to revise the present rules, and as the matter of a date for the primaries was a part of these rules, the latter motion rescinds the previous one.

This was the ruling of Chairman McNutt, and according to it there are no rules now in existence to govern the county committee.
